Harriman Ready For Soviet Trip

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has given W. Averill Harriman authority to negotiate with the Soviets on a nuclear test ban but only to listen and discuss other issues such as a European nonaggression pact.

This was reported by administration sources today as Harriman, undersecretary of state, prepared to leave for Moscow for talks beginning July 15.

Harriman planned to take a late afternoon plane to New York, then fly on to London Thursday and to Moscow Sunday. In London he is to confer with British officials, representing the third power at the Moscow meeting.

President Kennedy convened a National Security Council session late Tuesday for a final rundown on Harriman's assignment to the Moscow talks, starting next Monday.

The top strategy group, expanded to include senior advisers on disarmament matters, met at the White House for less than an hour.

It was understood that no detailed report had been received in Washington yet on Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak's meeting with Khrushchev in Kiev last Monday.

Washington strategists look to Spaak's account for some clues on what Khrushchev had in mind in advancing his vaguely worded twin proposal in a July 2 East Berlin speech.

Spaak, a former secretary general of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization who has favored a nonaggression pact between the NATO and Warsaw military alliances, told newsmen after seeing Khrushchev that he was confident East-West relations will improve.

U.S. authorities were split between hope and pessimism for the outcome of the Harriman mission.

Hope stemmed from assessments that Khrushchev now wants to make a deal with the West because of his row with Red China and other difficulties.

Pessimists figure that the Khrushchev offer is a propaganda gambit in his latest "peaceful coexistence" offensive which will turn out to be as unacceptable to the West as past Soviet proposals.

In either case, Harriman's visit is regarded as an important probe of Kremlin intentions at a time of potential change in East-West relations. The possible scope of the Moscow meeting, originally scheduled to deal with a nuclear test ban, has been greatly broadened by Khrushchev's tossing in the nonaggression pact idea. Some believe this meeting could lead to a series of East-West parleys.

Dems Claim Rhodes Payroll Tops DiSalle's

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Democratic leaders in the legislature asserted today that state payrolls for six months under Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes were higher than for the previous half year under his predecessor.

Sen. Frank King, D-Lucas, and Rep. A. G. Lancione D-Belmont, issued their prepared statement as the General Assembly returned to wind up work of the current session.

"Gov. Rhodes spent $82.5 million in the last half of the fiscal year (ending June 30) compared to $80.7 million expended the first half of the fiscal year under former Gov. (Michael V.) DiSalle," they said.

The statement termed the figures "irrefutable proof that Rhodes' claims of payroll reductions lack foundation. They called for an independent audit.

Finance Director Richard Krabach declined direct comment on the statement.

He reiterated that there are 5,000 fewer employees on state payroll now than when Rhodes took office.

It was pointed out that state university employees were carried on payrolls for the last six months but for only three months of the first half of the fiscal year, beginning July 1, 1962, because of summer vacations.

Civil Disobedience Stand Is Debated

DENVER (AP)—A statement supporting civil disobedience if government is tyrannical and also declaring citizens have a right to advocate alternative political and economic systems faced the fourth general synod of the United Christian Church today.

It was one of several controversial proposals up for action on the next-to-last day of the week-long meeting.

Among the other recommendations were a statement to halt contributions by the synod to any church or institution—including colleges, orphanages and old people's homes—which is not racially desegregated by next July 1.

Heidelberg Gets Loan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Community Facilities Administration has announced a $585,000 loan to Heidelberg College in Tiffin, Ohio, for a men's residence hall.

School Board Employs Four New Teachers

Three Resign; Four Vacancies Exist on City Teaching Staff

The employment of four new teachers and acceptance of three teacher resignations topped the business agenda of the Circleville Board of Education meeting last night.

Superintendent Fritz Jacobs announced that four vacancies still exist for the fall term. He listed them as an eighth grade English position, fourth grade teacher for the S. Court Street School, special education and a replacement in eighth grade science for John Adler who submitted his resignation.

The eighth grade science vacancy also carries the increment of assistant football coach. Adler resigned to accept a position at Groveport.

Other teachers resigning were Helen Hoffman, eighth grade English, quitting due to illness; and Charles Dotson teacher of the fourth grade at South Court, who resigned to accept a position at Gallipolis.

TEACHERS employed by the board included Mrs. Carol Brown, a graduate of Ohio University with one year's experience at Urbana a grade one position; Nancy Franklin, a graduate of the University of Toledo, a grade two position; Edwin C. Leatherwood, Ashville, who holds a master's degree from Ohio University, for seventh grade science; and Joyce Thompson, also an OU graduate with nine years experience.

The board discussed recent acts of the legislature concerning eye protective devices to be used by all students and instructors in vocational departments, industrial arts and science laboratories. The board expressed its opinion as being in "full agreement with the legislature," and the eye protection program will be put into full effect in city schools.

Virgil Cress, business manager, was given the board's sanction to advertise several old desks to be sold at $2 each.

A discussion of a communications system for the high school building led to the board's approval for the installation of a two-way address system. The contract is to be awarded to the Sight and Sound Co., Columbus.

Superintendent Jacobs informed the board that he was working with the Teachers' Assn. in efforts to assemble a personnel policy handbook. Jacobs said a progress report would be given periodically to the board on the handbook.

Cress announced that two rooms at the Franklin Elementary Building were to have some repair work completed before opening of the fall term. The repair work is to include refinishing of floors and the painting of walls.

JACOBS informed the board the Citizens Committee is to meet at the high school Thursday evening and a review of the board's actions on the proposed bond issue would be presented.

The board was also informed that the State Department of Education approved the purchase of a new school bus requested by the local board several months ago.

Southern Ohio Crops Hurt

GEORGETOWN, Ohio (AP)—Farm experts in Southern Ohio say crops in the area need rain badly.

County agents from 19 Southwest Ohio counties compared notes at an experiment station near Ripley Tuesday and said they expected trouble.

Woodrow Hamilton of Clermont County said barley tobacco in his area has started showing drought effects. He said corn, soybeans and late crops that haven't put down deep roots were damaged noticeably.

Hamilton said grazing areas on permanent pastures is becoming scarce, and he predicted lower milk production.

How New Second National Bank Will Look

Contracts Let for Building Of New Second National Bank

Contracts calling for construction of the new Second National Bank at 136-140 E. Main St., were officially awarded today.

Durward D. Dowden, president of the Second National, said construction will start as soon as demolition of two existing buildings is completed. The new bank will occupy the present site of the old American Legion Home and the house immediately east of it.

The new completely air-conditioned bank, 45 feet wide by 80 feet deep, will be of brick construction with aluminum trim. Officers' quarters and directors' room will be located on the west side of the structure.

Eight teller cages and the vault will be on the east side of the building. The bookkeeping department will be headquartered in the rear.

THE NEW institution will provide two drive-in windows, one on the east side of the building. The second will be a drive-in island directly to the east of the first one.

Customer parking space will be provided for 24 cars. This facility will be in the same general area that is now being utilized for parking.

KKK To Copy Strategy Used By Negroes

ATLANTA (AP)—Ku Klux Klan leaders are mapping a campaign of white resistance to desegregation that includes many of the methods used by Negroes seeking equal rights in the racial struggle.

Georgia's grand dragon, Calvin F. Craig of Atlanta, said Tuesday he would not encourage violence.

"But I'm going to encourage self-protection," he said. "The white people have been trampled on—a man can't even operate his own business in an orderly manner."

The imperial wizard, Robert M. Shelton Jr. of Tuscaloosa, Ala., said "the thing we've got to do is shock people into reality."

Shelton and Craig belong to the United Klans of America Inc., Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. They say their order is the only authentic Klan.

Shelton said the Klan hopes to reach 50,000 persons a week in public rallies.

In addition to the mass rallies, the Klan plans marching demonstrations, economic reprisals and white voter registration drives.

Pittsburgh Crash Is Fatal to 6

PITTSBURGH (AP)—"I went over to see what I could do. There was nothing."

These were the grim words of a doctor who arrived on the scene Tuesday shortly after a fiery collision killed six persons on the Penn.-Lincoln Parkway East in Pittsburgh.

Officials said it was the worst accident involving automobiles in the city's history.

The crash, involving four cars and a bus, took the lives of four in one family: Blair E. Ashbaugh, 47, of Salina, Westmoreland County; his wife, Frances, 46; their two children, Linda, 16, and Randy, 7; and two Pittsburghers, Ralph E. Regan, 28, and Martin D. Davern.

According to Dowden, all utilities, record and storage vaults will be housed in the basement.

General contractor for the project is the Breyfogle Construction Co. of Columbus. The architect is David Kyle Adams, also of Columbus.

The local John N. Bowers Construction Co. has been awarded the contract for demolition of the present buildings and preparing the site for construction. This work has already started.

The new building is expected to be completed around the end of this year.

Khrush Hails Hungarian Chief As Parley with China Resumes

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev welcomed Hungarian Communist leader Janos Kadar to Moscow today as Chinese and Soviet delegations resumed their ideological peace talks after a day's interruption.

A new attack on the Soviet party from Peking bolstered reports that the Soviet and Chinese negotiators were making little or no progress toward any significant improvement in relations between the two Communist giants.

Khrushchev returned from Kiev to greet the Hungarian premier and party leader and a large group of Hungarian party and government officials at the Kievsky railroad station. In contrast to the low-key reception for the Chinese negotiators last week, the Hungar-

Bronx Racial Disorders Continuing

NEW YORK (AP)—White hecklers clashed with pickets from the Congress of Racial Equality Tuesday night near a Bronx diner, scene of racial disorders for four straight nights.

About 20 policemen, swinging nightsticks, broke up the scuffle. Two white men were arrested on assault charges. One was treated at a hospital for a cut on the forehead.

Police said the melee apparently started when one of the hundreds of shouting whites, mostly teenagers, threw a cardboard container of coffee at the pickets.

One picket, a white schoolteacher, told newsmen he was punched and kicked and his glasses were broken.

Another white man was arrested earlier on a disorderly conduct charge for refusing to move on as police ordered. He was sentenced to two days in jail.

More than 100 policemen patrolled the area for several blocks around the White Castle diner. They curtailed traffic on nearby streets to prevent youths from cruising the neighborhood.

The pickets, both white and Negro, ended their demonstration at 12:30 a.m. and said they would be back later today. The pickets want the White Castle chain to hire more Negroes.

Miles away, a round-the-clock sit-in continued at City Hall. Demonstrators are demanding more jobs in construction trades for Negroes and Puerto Ricans.

Ohio Gets Road Fund

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio will get $221,236,149 as its share of $3.68 billion in federal aid newly allotted to states for the expanded national highway program in fiscal 1965 (July 1, 1964, to June 30, 1965).

News Briefs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Continuing claims for unemployment compensation—for those unemployed one week or more, continues a decline that began a number of weeks ago, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation report showed today.

Continuing claims for the week ended July 6 totaled 57,945 compared to the 59,706 of the previous week.

New claims filed totaled 11,687 in the week ended July 6, up from the 9,242 reported June 29.

WOODSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp.'s plant at Hannibal in Monroe County has announced completion of a two-year, multi-million-dollar program to increase the capacity of the sheet and plate production line at its big aluminum rolling mill.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Trial is scheduled to start in federal court here Monday for Thomas Reese Lloyd, Cambridge, attorney, charged with failure to file income taxes for the years 1956-57.

He pleaded innocent to the charge last April. The charges against him list his gross income in 1956 at $39,482, and for 1957 at $30,059.

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union claims that representatives of the Western-sponsored Central Treaty Organization are plotting campaign to help Iraq wipe out rebellious Kurd tribesmen.

This involves establishment of foreign strongholds near the Soviet border and therefore threatens Soviet security, Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko charged Tuesday in statements handed to the ambassadors of Iraq, Iran, Turkey and Syria.

Polish Pilot Flies Family To Freedom

BERLIN (AP)—A Polish air force major crammed his wife and two children into a single-engine fighter plane and flew them to West Berlin today for political asylum, U.S. officials reported.

The plane landed at West Berlin's Tempelhof Airport.

The names of the defectors were not disclosed. The major asked American officials for asylum, a U.S. spokesman said.

The fighter landed at the military side of Tempelhof, which is in the heart of West Berlin. The plane was quickly beamed into a hangar and its occupants disappeared.

Tempelhof Airport is part commercial. Only planes from the West, flying the three air corridors across Communist East Germany, normally land there.

But the Pole came from the East. He had to cross the Oder-Neisse border between East Germany and Poland and then fly across 60 miles of East German territory before reaching Berlin.

Profane Man Ordered Wash Mouth with Soap

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. (AP)—A taste of justice was meted out Tuesday to Louis Winiarski, 46.

He had to wash out his mouth with soap as part of the punishment given by Justice of the Peace Francis Castellucci.

Sheriff's deputies said he used liquid soap. Winiarski was found guilty of using obscene language in the presence of women and children.

Congress Seen Getting Call For Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP)—A union turnout scuttled today President Kennedy's proposal to head off a crippling midnight railroad strike through arbitration by Supreme Court Justice Arthur J. Goldberg. Kennedy promptly called in his legislative leaders.

There was no word from the White House immediately on what was under discussion with the top Democrats from the Capitol—not even official disclosure that they were on hand.

Speculation quickly centered on the possibility that the administration was near the point of giving up on efforts to get agreement among the parties and was turning to Congress for emergency legislation.

That might take the form of a law for compulsory arbitration or seizure of the rail carriers, or both.

There was no disposition to hope, however, that congressional action could come in time for the deadline at 12:01 a.m. local time Thursday.

Still on the record officially, however, was an indication from Kennedy that he might have something else coming up. He kept the negotiators on standby basis for further conferences.

The President had indicated he would give the disputants word at noon on whether he wanted to talk to them again.

But that time passed with no word.

Principally at issue are plans to eliminate some 40,000 firemen's jobs in freight and yard service, and trim off about 25,000 workers the railroads contend they no longer need.

The carriers agreed to the Kennedy proposal with the statement: "We accept."

Kennedy immediately went into a huddle with Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, Undersecretary James Reynolds and White House counsel Theodore Sorensen.

While the operating unions rejected the proposal, they told Kennedy they "most seriously join you in seeking some alternative method of settlement that will preserve the principles of free collective bargaining."

A management spokesman said it was reasonable to expect there would be a suggestion which might head off a strike.

The chief spokesman for management, J.E. Wolfe, told reporters that Kennedy "expects to contact us later today."

It was he who said it was reasonable to believe some further step was in contemplation which might avoid the scheduled walk-out.

The stoppage is planned for 12:01 a.m. local time tonight, the time at which management plans to put into effect work rules changes that would cut off some 40,000 firemen's jobs and perhaps 25,000 more workers.

A letter delivered to Kennedy by the union leaders added:

"We hope that you can suggest some other method than the one procedure we cannot accept as a matter of deepest principle, which will act to prevent the railroads from proceeding with their drastic changes in rules, wages and working conditions without agreement."

The union leaders said they had given Kennedy's arbitration proposal "most careful attention and consideration," and they "fully realize the seriousness of the situation."

They said further that they were being asked to agree to a procedure which they believe could pave the way for future "compulsory arbitration by custom or practice."

"This we cannot agree to as a matter of principle," they said. They told Kennedy it would be difficult for him to have selected a more eminently capable arbitrator than Goldberg. They said they have a deep respect for the integrity and ability of the Supreme Court Justice, adding that "our regard for him as well as for you, our President, makes it even more arduous to prepare this response."

Polish Pilot Flies Family To Freedom

BERLIN (AP)—A Polish air force major crammed his wife and two children into a single-engine fighter plane and flew them to West Berlin today for political asylum, U.S. officials reported.

The plane landed at West Berlin's Tempelhof Airport.

The names of the defectors were not disclosed. The major asked American officials for asylum, a U.S. spokesman said.

The fighter landed at the military side of Tempelhof, which is in the heart of West Berlin. The plane was quickly wheeled into a hangar and its occupants disappeared.

Tempelhof Airport is part commercial. Only planes from the West, flying the three air corridors across Communist East Germany, normally land there.

But the Pole came from the East. He had to cross the Oder-Neisse border between East Germany and Poland and then fly across 60 miles of East German territory before reaching Berlin.

Profane Man Ordered Wash Mouth with Soap

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. (AP)—A taste of justice was meted out Tuesday to Louis Winiarski, 46.

He had to wash out his mouth with soap as part of the punishment given by Justice of the Peace Francis Castellucci.

Sheriff's deputies said he used profane language in the presence of women and children.

Congress Seen Getting Call For Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP)—A union shutdown scuttled today President Kennedy's proposal to head off a crippling midnight railroad strike through arbitration by Supreme Court Justice Arthur J. Goldberg. Kennedy promptly called in his legislative leaders.

There was no word from the White House immediately on what was under discussion with the top Democrats from the Capitol—not even official disclosure that they were on hand.

Speculation quickly centered on the possibility that the administration was near the point of giving up on efforts to get agreement among the parties and was turning to Congress for emergency legislation.

That might take the form of a law for compulsory arbitration or seizure of the rail carriers, or both.

There was no disposition to hope, however, that congressional action could come in time for the deadline at 12:01 a.m. local time Thursday.

Still on the record officially, however, was an indication from Kennedy that he might have something else coming up. He kept the negotiators on standby basis for further conferences.

The President had indicated he would give the disputants word at noon on whether he wanted to talk to them again.

But that time passed with no word.

Principally at issue are plans to eliminate some 40,000 firemen's jobs in freight and yard service, and trim off about 25,000 workers the railroads contend they no longer need.

The carriers agreed to the Kennedy proposal with the statement: "We accept."

Kennedy immediately went into a huddle with Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, Undersecretary James Reynolds and White House counsel Theodore Sorensen.

While the operating unions rejected the proposal, they told Kennedy they "most seriously join you in seeking some alternative method of settlement that will preserve the principles of free collective bargaining."

A management spokesman said it was reasonable to expect there would be a suggestion which might head off a strike.

The chief spokesman for management, J.E. Wolfe, told reporters that Kennedy "expects to contact us later today."

The stoppage is planned for 12:01 a.m. local time tonight, the time at which management plans to put into effect work rules changes that would cut off some 40,000 firemen's jobs and perhaps 25,000 more workers.

A letter delivered to Kennedy by the union leaders added:

"We hope that you can suggest some other method than the one procedure we cannot accept as a matter of deepest principle, which will act to prevent the railroads from proceeding with their drastic changes in rules, wages and working conditions without agreement."

The union leaders said they had given Kennedy's arbitration proposal "most careful attention and consideration," and they "fully realize the seriousness of the situation."

They said further that they were being asked to agree to a procedure which they believe could pave the way for future "compulsory arbitration by custom or practice."

"This we cannot agree to as a matter of principle," they said. They told Kennedy it would be difficult for him to have selected a more eminently capable arbitrator than Goldberg. They said they have a deep respect for the integrity and ability of the Supreme Court Justice, adding that "our regard for him as well as for you, our President, makes it even more arduous to prepare this response."

Eight Little League Minor Division Teams See Action

It was almost a full card last night in the Little League minors, with eight of the 10 teams seeing action.

The Savings Bank, tops in the red circuit, tripped Circleville Oil, leader of the black league, 1-9.

The first National Bank copped a game from the second place black league, 11-9.

The first National Bank copped a game from the second place black league team, defeating the Jaycees, 13-9. The Third National Bank shut out Blue Ribbon Dairy, 16-0, and Wards slipped past Rotary, 10-8.

The Savings Bankers won as their two hurlers threw six hit ball. Mike Rhoads started, walked five and fanned four. Dave Dresbach helped him and gained the win. Dresbach gave up six hits, fanned four and walked two.

Oil pitcher Brian Weaver allowed 11 hits, walked 10 and fanned six in going the distance and collecting the loss.

Rick Olney tripped and Rhoads and Don Jackson had doubles for the winners.

Craig Dresbach banged a home-run, Dan Ogen belted a triple and Johnson carded a double for the losers.

The Savings Bank holds top spot in the Red League with a 5-3 slate. The Oilmen's defeat drops them to 6-2.

The winning First National hurler was Mike Sabine, who appeared in the sixth and shut-out his opposition. Starting pitcher, Harry Smith, was replaced in the fourth by Randy Martin, who gave way to Sabine.

Hunt started and lost for the Jaycees. He was aided by McCain in the fifth.

Bill Huber cracked his first homer of the year for the First Banker but Randy Martin out hit him as he went five for five with two singles, a double and two triples. Jim Ballou belted three hits, two singles and a double, to aid the Bankers.

Lutz, Martin and Frericks all contributed doubles to the losing cause. Wards had to produce a five run rally in the top of the sixth to down the Rotary nine.

The winners had gotten off to an early lead, scoring four in the first but they were shut out in the second and third and could push only one runner across the plate in the fourth.

The Rotary team scored a total of eight runs in the second, third and fourth innings but was shut out in the final two frames.

Tom Wickerham, who came on in relief at the end of three innings was credited with the win. He was four for four at the plate slamming out a pair of triples and two singles. Cook, two for two, tagged a triple while Steve Mogan, Wards starting pitcher, hit a double and a single in two trips to the plate. Joyce doubled for the winners.

Bob Triplehorn started for the Rotary and went five innings and was relieved in the sixth by Gary Dumm.

Leading hitters for the Rotarians were Ritchie, with a double and a single, Triplehorn with a double and a single, and Ken Kefler with a pair of singles.

Chuck Plum went the route for the Third National Bank, allowing only four hits and walking two in his shutout performance. He fanned five.

Steve Thomas handled the mound duties for the losing Blue Ribbon nine, allowing 13 hits, including home runs by Lawrence Gillian and Jim Sawyer, triples by Gillian and Verland Riley and a double by Plum.

Eight of the winners 16 runs came in the fifth inning.

Deaths

MRS. MYRTLE SEVERNS

Mrs. Myrtle Severns, 72, of Fredericktown, O., died 6:30 p. m. Monday.

Surviving are her husband, William; one daughter, Mrs. Catherine Rutter, Circleville; one son, Charles Corrigan, Mt. Vernon; one foster daughter, Mrs. Shirley Davis, Mt. Vernon; three grandchildren; four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be 2 p. m. tomorrow at the Bollinger Funeral Home, Fredericktown.

Kingston FD Douses Two Grass Fires

The Kingston Fire Department was called to two minor fires in Pickaway Twp. yesterday afternoon.

A grass fire was started by a cutting torch at the Route 23 Auto Parts, just south of Circleville, while a backfiring truck ignited straw mulch at the site of road construction near Elmwood Elevator on route 361. Minor damage resulted in both.

Deputy Gene Kerns investigated both fires for the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

St. Paul EUB Group Has Picnic

The Adult Fellowship of St. Paul EUB Church met recently for its annual picnic with 32 members and guests in attendance.

Plans were made for the annual fish fry during a brief business session. The fund-raising event will be held August 7 on the church lawn.

Committee in charge will be headed by Ralph DeLong with Nelson Stevens and Jerry Wolford as assisting.

DEMOLITION UNDER WAY — Circleville's new Second National Bank will rise at this location once these two buildings are removed at 136-140 E. Main St. The structure on the left is the old American Legion Home. The building on the right was used as physicians' offices and housing quarters for many years. The new banking institution is expected to be completed around the end of this year.

Stock Market Prices Mixed

NEW YORK (AP)—A recovery movement early this afternoon left the stock market mixed as uncertainty continued over the possibility of a nationwide railway strike Thursday.

Wall Street seemed to be gathering new hope that a rail tie-up could be averted. According to published comment, most big rail shippers believe that if a strike comes it will be short.

Airlines rallied as a group as glowing reports of increased passenger traffic were banded out.

The rail stocks themselves fought their way back from early declines, some of them posting pretty good gains while others continued lower.

Autos remained lower with Chrysler under intense selling pressure. Steels were narrowly mixed.

A number of the volatile "glamour" issues advanced while some were down sharply.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down .9 at 271.7 with industrials off 1.4, rails off .6, and utilities off .2. The average did not reflect the improvement that came shortly afterwards.

Both Bride, Bridegroom To Be Armless

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—When a highway patrolman stopped Martin L. Revellette last February, Ravellette pulled out his drivers license—with his feet.

He has no arms. The Associated Press story of Ravellette and his specially equipped car was carried by newspapers across the country and read by 19-year-old Jo Beth Johnson in Live Oak, Fla.

She wrote Ravellette a letter—with her feet. She has no arms, either.

Ravellette, 23, moved to Klamath Falls, Ore. and the correspondence continued.

Tuesday, Ravellette's mother, Mrs. Laurene Ravellette of Ocean-side, received a letter from the girl announcing their plans to be married.

At her north Florida home near Live Oak, Jo Beth said she will marry Ravellette, a salesman. Friday night at a Baptist church. They applied for their marriage license Monday.

Assistant Grid Coach Resigns At Circleville

John Adler Accepts Position in Franklin County School System

John Adler, assistant Circleville High School football coach, and junior high school general science teacher, has submitted his resignation to the board of education.

Adler has accepted a position at Groveport High School where he will be reserve football coach and high school physical education instructor. He will also teach one period of physics.

Adler said the position in the Franklin County School system will permit him to work towards his master's degree at Ohio State. Married and the father of two children, he has been an assistant coach at Circleville High School since his graduation from Wittenberg University in 1956.

HE BEGAN his coaching career here under Steve Brudzinski, who was then head grid coach, as a reserve mentor. In 1958 he moved to the varsity guard and served as a line coach, a position he held until his resignation.

He was graduated from Springfield High School in 1952. While at Wittenberg he earned All-Ohio honors as a guard.

Besides working with the football staff, Adler was the junior high school track and field coach, a position he shared with Jim Lint.

Adler indicated he would probably maintain his residence in Circleville. He and his family live

Rick Olney tripped and Rhoads and Don Jackson had doubles for the winners.

Craig Dresbach banged a home-run, Dan Ogen belted a triple and Johnson carded a double for the losers.

The Savings Bank holds top spot in the Red League with a 5-3 slate. The Oilmen's defeat drops them to 6-2.

The winning First National hurler was Mike Sabine, who appeared in the sixth and shut-out his opposition. Starting pitcher, Harry Smith, was replaced in the fourth by Randy Martin, who gave way to Sabine.

Hunt started and lost for the Jaycees. He was aided by McCain in the fifth.

Bill Huber cracked his first homer of the year for the First Banker but Randy Martin out hit him as he went five for five with two singles, a double and two triples. Jim Ballou belted three hits, two singles and a double, to aid the Bankers.

Lutz, Martin and Frericks all contributed doubles to the losing cause.

Wards had to produce a five run rally in the top of the sixth to down the Rotary nine.

The winners had gotten off to an early lead, scoring four in the first but they were shut out in the second and third and could push only one runner across the plate in the fourth.

The Rotary team scored a total of eight runs in the second, third and fourth innings but was shut out in the final two frames.

Tom Wickerham, who came on in relief at the end of three innings was credited with the win. He was four for four at the plate slugging out a pair of triples and two singles. Cook, two for two, tagged a triple while Steve Mogan, Wards starting pitcher, hit a double and a single in two trips to the plate. Joyce doubled for the winners.

Bob Triplehorn started for the Rotary and went five innings and was relieved in the sixth by Gary Dumm.

Leading hitters for the Rotarians were Ritchie, with a double and a single, Triplehorn with a double and a single, and Ken Kefler with a pair of singles.

Chuck Plum went the route for the Third National Bank, allowing only four hits and walking two in his shutout performance. He fanned five.

Steve Thomas handled the mound duties for the losing Blue Ribbon nine, allowing 13 hits, including home runs by Lawrence Gillian and Jim Sawyer, triples by Gillian and Verland Riley and a double by Plum.

Eight of the winners 16 runs came in the fifth inning.

Assistant Grid Coach Resigns At Circleville

John Adler Accepts Position in Franklin County School System

John Adler, assistant Circleville High School football coach, and junior high school general science teacher, has submitted his resignation to the board of education.

Adler has accepted a position at Groveport High School where he will be reserve football coach and high school physical education instructor. He will also teach one period of psychology.

Adler said the position in the Franklin County School system will permit him to work towards his master's degree at Ohio State. Married and the father of two children, he has been an assistant coach at Circleville High School since his graduation from Wittenberg University in 1956.

HE BEGAN his coaching career here under Steve Brudzinski, who was then head grid coach, as a reserve mentor. In 1958 he moved to the varsity guard and served as a line coach, a position he held until his resignation.

He was graduated from Springfield High School in 1952. While at Wittenberg he earned All-Ohio honors as a guard.

Besides working with the football staff, Adler was the junior high school track and field coach, a position he shared with Jim Lind.

Adler indicated he would probably maintain his residence in Circleville. He and his family live

Four EUB Youths At Camp Otterbein

Four youths of the First EUB Church left Monday for Junior High Camp at Camp Otterbein, near Logan.

They are Darrel Goodman, Bob McNeelley, Ricky Sims and Mike Young.

The session promises to be the largest camp this season at the Logan County site, according to local EUB youth leaders.

The leader of this camp is the Rev. Howard Buckley of the Columbus Westgate EUB Church.

Craze for Initials

Propensity for initials which government agencies and newspapers, and assorted individuals, have indulged in for several decades should arouse sympathy for the youngsters of today. Traditionally they must cram their minds with spelling, multiplication tables, conjugations and other fundamentals of an education.

And somewhere along the way to maturity they are now called upon to find time to become familiar with the growing maze of abbreviations tossed at them so casually by the government, the press, the radio and heard so often in conversation.

The initials fad came to life and quickly got out of hand back in the 1930s. Government bureaus springing into existence during the depression led the way. Soon it was impossible to be sure whether the familiar AAA referred to the well-known automobile association or the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. Then CCC became the substitute for the Civilian Conservation Corps, only to be used later to identify the Commodity Credit Corporation.

World War II spawned an additional crop of initials, generally more tricky than their predecessors. Most of these were military and usually they farmed words—WAES, WAC and SHAEF are samples.

The initials fad seems to have flourished partly because of laziness and partly because a craze like that just grows and grows.

Science Data Problem

Science's reference system these days is somewhat reminiscent of hall closets of the days when closets were still used to store things in. Everything is there, but try to find it.

The physicist, the astronomer, the biologist, the chemist—and yes, the space technician—are adding volumes of data to already overburdened reference libraries. An estimated half million scientists are working throughout the world, and their prodigious output is doubling the world's scientific knowledge every eight years.

It is not easy to keep this data available for use when needed, and it is no wonder many millions of dollars spent each year in research and development are wasted on projects already accomplished.

One U. S. congressman who has introduced a bill to create a national clearing house for scientific information places the cost of waste through poor information availability much higher. Rep. Roman Pucinski says wasteful duplication of research is "estimated to be up to 50 per cent of our current $15 billion effort in research and development."

Obviously, the absent-minded scientist still needs help.

Some Nice Girls Denied Alimony

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Aside from a funny hat or baggy pants, the most traditional prop of a comedian has been his wife.

Marriage enables him to stand up in public and deliver such deathless lines as:

"My wife is so crazy about me she'd put a burnt offering before me every morning—except I don't like toast for breakfast."

"My wife is so dumb that when she was cleaning house last week it took her three days to throw away a boomerang."

Milt Kamen is an unusual comedian. He's a bachelor. This cuts him out of telling wife jokes, mother-in-law jokes and father-in-law jokes—half the repertoire of many a standard comic.

Despite this handicap, Kamen, by developing his own wry brand of hilarity, has become a top night club comedian, straight actor, and a rising young television panelist.

Why doesn't he marry?

"I'm emotionally ready for marriage," Milt admitted eagerly. "What bothers me is—I'm not emotionally ready for divorce. Sometimes I feel sad because I realize I am denying some nice girl alimony."

But he's reasonably sure he'll never wed an actress.

"Before you can finish telling an actress why you love her, her mind begins to wander," he remarked. "She starts thinking about her own career problems."

"My weakness is waitresses, not actresses. Anybody who serves me food I automatically put down as a nice person."

Kamen, reared in the Brownsville section of Brooklyn that produced members of the Murder, Inc., mob, came up the long, hard, tough, lonesome way.

"I had to fight every day when I was five years old," he recalled. "Andy by the time I was seven I was punchy."

"I was brought up in an orphan

Try and Stop Me

BEFORE EACH of them became famous singly on Broadway, Judy Holliday, Betty Comden and Adolph Green had a nightclub act that sent audiences into gales of laughter. They repeated their triumph when invited to perform for the Dutch Treat Club—but one famous gentleman at a table directly in front of them never smiled once. It was former President Herbert Hoover, and Judy Holliday in particular was determined to break down his resistance.

"If this number doesn't get him," she whispered to me, "I give up." Alas, Mr. Hoover again watched impassively and his rather solemn expression never changed.

Directly the meeting was adjourned, however, Mr. Hoover came up to the three young performers and told them warmly, "You kids have the jolliest, most original act I've seen in years. I don't remember when I've had a better time. You're going to go very far!" "But Mr. President," interrupted the delighted Judy Holliday, "we were watching you particularly, and you never smiled once!" "I know," nodded Mr. Hoover. "I never have learned to smile on the outside. But inside, I was smiling all over!"

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

What causes dryness of the skin in the hands? Can anything be done for it?

Mrs. H. H. Nevada
Dear Mrs. H.: Unusual dryness of the skin can be the result of a number of basic conditions such as allergy, infection and irritation caused by drugs or harsh detergents. For many years the general recommendation was to avoid water and substitute creams and lotions for scaling and roughness of the skin.

Recently an interesting report from the University of Tennessee seems to have departed from this idea. Following a study, they now advocate soaking the hands in warm water and applying a soothing lotion while the hands are still somewhat moist. It seems that water and oil do mix for the comfort of dry skin.

My 4-year-old boy becomes blue when he gets angry. Is this dangerous? Mrs. E. D. W. Ohio

Dear Mrs. W.: When a child is hurt, frightened or angry he may cry, and while doing so will hold his breath. The blueness of the face and lips is caused by a temporary lack of oxygen.

This is not dangerous to the child although terrifying to parents. Sometimes children learn very early that these outbursts of temper can actually be used for their own gain. It is wise to inquire into the psychological cause for these temper tantrums so that your child can be helped.

Is it true that once the sinuses are washed out it must be continued indefinitely? G. K. Massachusetts

Dear Mr. K.: This is utterly false and has no basis in fact. Often such unfounded information is perpetuated by lack of knowledge. Everybody has sinuses. When sinuses become infected, they have sinusitis.

Following an infection, the sinuses may be filled with pus. When this occurs, the sinuses must be washed out in order to drain the locked-up disease.

But if the underlying chronic infection of the sinuses persists, then pus will continue to form. In that case, additional washings or drainings of the sinuses must be continued until the infection subsides. On four occasions when our shy

8-year-old son has had overnight dates with a friend, he developed asthma. We then have had to bring him home.

Can you explain this? Mrs. G. L. Tenn.

Dear Mrs. L.: The key word in your question and your astute observation lies in your descriptive word "shy." A shy, withdrawn insecure child may find that the only way he can in dignity ask you, his parents, to take him back to his home and security is by developing the physical ailment asthma.

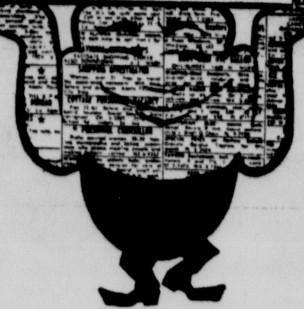

This may not be done consciously, but this is how the body-mind unity works.

Doctors and psychiatrists agree that the emotions play a large part in triggering an asthmatic attack. Psychological guidance, in addition to the study of the allergic aspect of the asthma, will contribute much to your child's health.

Our Loss of 'Dignidad'

By John Chamberlain

When I was in Puerto Rico some years ago a member of the Seralles rum-distilling clan tried to explain to me the Latin concept of "Dignidad." To translate it as simple "dignity" was not quite right; apparently the concept also included something about honor and inviolability. It was a two-day proposition: Dignidad meant that one should be respected, but also that one must have reason to demand respect. The Seralles clan at the time was insistent that it be regarded as first-class Spaniards, not as third-class Americans. Dignidad was very much on its mind.

Thinking about the business of temporizing with Castro in Cuba, I have more than once recalled that conversation about Dignidad in the hot Caribbean coastal town of Ponce. The trouble with the United States in relation to the Castro question is that it has had no Dignidad. In putting up with Fidel Castro's diatribes and insults, we do not respect ourselves. And it follows, as the night follows the day, that no Dignidad-loving Latin American from the Rio Grande all the way south to Patagonia can respect us.

Confirmation of this suspicion comes from Mexico, in a new Mexican-American Bulletin put out by Hugo Salinas Price at Apartado Postal No. 15049 Mexico 15, D.F., which is hereby recommended to the so-called Fourth Floor of the U.S. State Department. Full of Dignidad himself, Hugo Salinas Price mimes no words on the subject of Castro. "In the eyes of our people," he says, "the fact that Castro is strong, and that the U.S. is impotent, is an overwhelming argument in favor of Castro. Outwardly, some of our people may not be sympathetic to Castro and Communism. But inwardly, they admire his valor, his decision, his will to attain a given goal, even over dead bodies."

This is laying it on the line. Stressing the "honor" component of Dignidad, Hugo Salinas Price points out that honor, in Mexican eyes, is bound up with "machismo" which is to be translated as "male-ism." The male Latin mentality, a man has perfect right to kill with his hands, with a knife, or with a gun, anyone who dares to humiliate him.

Well, Castro and his sarcastic speech-making Minister of Economics, the Argentinean "Che" Guevara, have seized every possible occasion to humiliate the United States. And so the Mexicans feel only "hate and contempt" for a nation that allows itself to be so humiliated. "Mexicans," so Hugo Salinas Price continues, "do not care to be allied with a power that has been humiliated, and that tries to buy respect. The Mexican is fiercely proud in the midst of poverty. The 'Alliance for Progress' completely ignores the fact that the Mexican is clearly aware of U.S. humiliation and degradation by Castro-Communism, and is still waiting for 'Tio Sam' to roll up his sleeves. The Mexican does not care a fig for propaganda about 'radical social reforms' because he has been hearing all this for 50 years, and it goes in one ear and out the other. What would powerfully impress him would be to see the U.S. pin Castro's ears back and eject Communism from Cuba."

Honor, so Hugo Salinas Price concludes, is a word that is respected far more than peace or tolerance in Mexico. "Each year" he says, "many people kill and are killed for its sake. That is the issue in the minds of Mexicans, an old-fashioned, unsophisticated issue which has not been grasped in Washington."

To be perfectly fair, some people do grasp the issue in Washington. Republican Senator Gordon Allott of Colorado would restore Uncle—or "Tio"—Sam's Dignidad by creating a Cuban government-in-exile and letting it set up its provisional capital on the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo. This would be throwing something right in Fidel Castro's face. The Mexican government, along with the Brazilian government, might officially object to the infringement of the concept of self-determination implied in backing a Cuban government-in-exile with the guns of a foreign naval base. But, as Hugo Salinas Price insists, the Latin American respects Dignidad more than he does finicking over nice shades of legality.

So get going, "Tio" Sam. You have nothing to lose but your loss of face.

Craze for Initials

Propensity for initials which government agencies and newspapers, and assorted individuals, have indulged in for several decades should arouse sympathy for the youngsters of today. Traditionally they must cram their minds with spelling, multiplication tables, conjugations and other fundamentals of an education.

And somewhere along the way to maturity they are now called upon to find time to become familiar with the growing maze of abbreviations tossed at them so casually by the government, the press, the radio and heard so often in conversation.

The initials fad came to life and quickly got out of hand back in the 1930s. Government bureaus springing into existence during the depression led the way. Soon it was impossible to be sure whether the familiar AAA referred to the well-known automobile association or the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. Then CCC became the substitute for the Civilian Conservation Corps, only to be used later to identify the Commodity Credit Corporation.

World War II spawned an additional crop of initials, generally more tricky than their predecessors. Most of these were military and usually they farmed words—WAES, WAC and SHAEF are samples.

The initials fad seems to have flourished partly because of laziness and partly because a craze like that just grows and grows.

Science Data Problem

Science's reference system these days is somewhat reminiscent of hall closets of the days when closets were still used to store things in. Everything is there, but try to find it.

The physicist, the astronomer, the biologist, the chemist—and yes, the space technician—are adding volumes of data to already overburdened reference libraries. An estimated half million scientists are working throughout the world, and their prodigious output is doubling the world's scientific knowledge every eight years.

It is not easy to keep this data available for use when needed, and it is no wonder many millions of dollars spent each year in research and development are wasted on projects already accomplished.

One U. S. congressman who has introduced a bill to create a national clearing house for scientific information places the cost of waste through poor information availability much higher. Rep. Roman Pucinski says wasteful duplication of research is "estimated to be up to 50 per cent of our current $15 billion effort in research and development."

Obviously, the absent-minded scientist still needs help.

Some Nice Girls Denied Alimony

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Aside from a funny hat or baggy pants, the most traditional prop of a comedian has been his wife.

Marriage enables him to stand up in public and deliver such deathless lines as:

"My wife is so crazy about me she'd put a burnt offering before me every morning—except I don't like toast for breakfast."

"My wife is so dumb that when she was cleaning house last week it took her three days to throw away a boomerang."

Milt Kamen is an unusual comedian. He's a bachelor. This cuts him out of telling wife jokes, mother-in-law jokes and father-in-law jokes—half the repertoire of many a standard comic.

Despite this handicap, Kamen, by developing his own wry brand of hilarity, has become a top night club comedian, straight actor, and a rising young television panelist.

Why doesn't he marry? "I'm emotionally ready for marriage," Milt admitted eagerly. "What bothers me is—I'm not emotionally ready for divorce. Sometimes I feel sad because I realize I am denying some nice girl alimony."

But he's reasonably sure he'll never wed an actress.

"Before you can finish telling an actress why you love her, her mind begins to wander," he remarked. "She starts thinking about her own career problems."

"My weakness is waitresses, not actresses. Anybody who serves me food I automatically put down as a nice person."

Kamen, reared in the Brownsville section of Brooklyn that produced members of the Murder, Inc. mob, came up the long, hard, tough, lonesome way.

"I had to fight every day when I was five years old," he recalled. "Andy by the time I was seven I was punchy."

"I was brought up in an orphan asylum. I have no complaints about that. I was well-treated. But I feel lucky because I escaped getting an institutional mentality. A lot of kids don't."

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Leaders of the Franklin County Democratic Party will send a recommendation for the appointment of Victor J. Bodish as Columbus postmaster to Ohio's Democratic Sens. Frank J. Lausche and Stephen M. Young.

With the approval of the senators, the nomination will be sent to Postmaster General J. Edward Day.

Bodish, named superintendent of mails last year, would succeed Allen Rowe, who died recently.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

BEFORE EACH of them became famous singly on Broadway, Judy Holliday, Betty Comden and Adolph Green had a nightclub act that sent audiences into gales of laughter. They repeated their triumph when invited to perform for the Dutch Treat Club—but one famous gentleman at a table directly in front of them never smiled once. It was former President Herbert Hoover, and Judy Holliday in particular was determined to break down his resistance. "If this number doesn't get him," she whispered to me, "I give up." Alas, Mr. Hoover again watched impassively and his rather solemn expression never changed.

Directly the meeting was adjourned, however, Mr. Hoover came up to the three young performers and told them warmly, "You kids have the jolliest, most original act I've seen in years. I don't remember when I've had a better time. You're going to go very far!" But Mr. President, interrupted the delighted Judy Holliday, "we were watching you particularly, and you never smiled once!" "I know," nodded Mr. Hoover. "I never have learned to smile on the outside. But inside, I was smiling all over!"

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

What causes dryness of the skin on the hands? Can anything be done for it?

Mrs. H. H. Nevada
Dear Mrs. H.: Unusual dryness of the skin can be the result of a number of basic conditions such as allergy, infection and irritation caused by drugs or harsh detergents. For many years the general recommendation was to avoid water and substitute creams and lotions for scaling and roughness of the skin.

Recently an interesting report from the University of Tennessee seems to have departed from this idea. Following a study, they now advocate soaking the hands in warm water and applying a soothing lotion while the hands are still somewhat moist. It seems that water and oil mix for the comfort of dry skin.

My 4-year-old boy becomes blue when he gets angry. Is this dangerous?
Mrs. E. D. W. Ohio
Dear Mrs. W.: When a child is hurt, frightened or angry he may cry, and while doing so will hold his breath. The blueness of the face and lips is caused by a temporary lack of oxygen.

This is not dangerous to the child although terrifying to parents. Sometimes children learn very early that these outbursts of temper can actually be used for their own gain. It is wise to inquire into the psychological cause for these temper tantrums so that your child can be helped.

Is it true that once the sinuses are washed out it must be continued indefinitely?

G. K. Massachusetts
Dear Mr. K.: This is utterly false and has no basis in fact. Often such unfounded information is perpetuated by lack of knowledge. Everybody has sinuses. When sinuses become infected, they have sinusitis.

Following an infection, the sinuses may be filled with pus. When this occurs, the sinuses must be washed out in order to drain the locked-up disease.

But if the underlying chronic infection of the sinuses persists, then pus will continue to form. In that case, additional washings or drainings of the sinuses must be continued until the infection subsides.

On four occasions when our shy

8-year-old son has had overnight dates with a friend, he developed asthma. We then have had to bring him home.

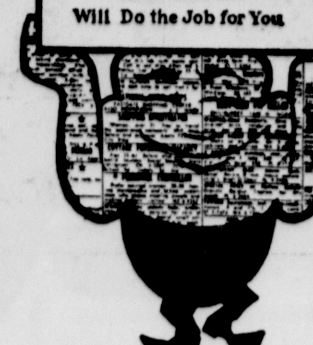

Can you explain this?
Mrs. G. L. Tenn
Dear Mrs. L.: The key word in your question and your astute observation lies in your descriptive word "shy." A shy, withdrawn insecure child may find that the only way he can in dignity ask you, his parents, to take him back to his home and security is by developing the physical ailment asthma.

This may not be done consciously, but this is how the body-mind unity works.

Doctors and psychiatrists agree that the emotions play a large part in triggering an asthmatic attack. Psychological guidance, in addition to the study of the allergic aspect of the asthma, will contribute much to your child's health.

Our Loss of 'Dignidad'

By John Chamberlain

When I was in Puerto Rico some years ago a member of the Serralles rum-distilling clan tried to explain to me the Latin concept of "Dignidad." To translate it as simple "dignity" was not quite right; apparently the concept also included something about honor and inviolability. It was a two-day proposition: Dignidad meant that one should be respected, but also that one must have reason to demand respect. The Serralles clan at the time was insistent that it be regarded as first-class Spaniards, not as third-class Americans. Dignidad was very much on its mind.

Thinking about the business of temporizing with Castro in Cuba, I have more than once recalled that conversation about Dignidad in the hot Caribbean coastal town of Ponce. The trouble with the United States in relation to the Castro question is that it has had no Dignidad. In putting up with Fidel Castro's diatribes and insults, we do not respect ourselves. And it follows, as the night follows the day, that no Dignidad—loving Latin American from the Rio Grande all the way south to Patagonia can respect us.

Confirmation of this suspicion comes from Mexico, in a new Mexican-American Bulletin put out by Hugo Salinas Price at Apartado Postal No. 15049 Mexico 15, D.F., which is hereby recommended to the so-called Fourth Floor of the U.S. State Department. Full of Dignidad himself, Hugo Salinas Price mimes no words on the subject of Castro. "In the eyes of our people," he says, "the fact that Castro is strong, and that the U.S. is impotent, is an overwhelming argument in favor of Castro. Outwardly, some of our people may not be sympathetic to Castro and Communism. But inwardly, they admire his valor, his decision, his will to attain a given goal, even over dead bodies."

This is laying it on the line. Stressing the "honor" component of Dignidad, Hugo Salinas Price points out that honor, in Mexican eyes, is bound up with "machismo" which is to be translated as "male-ism." The male Latin mentality, a man has perfect right to kill with his hands, with a knife, or with a gun, anyone who dares to humiliate him."

Well, Castro and his sarcastic speech-making Minister of Economics, the Argentinean "Che" Guevara, have seized every possible occasion to humiliate the United States. And so the Mexicans feel only "hate and contempt" for a nation that allows itself to be so humiliated. "Mexicans," so Hugo Salinas Price continues, "do not care to be allied with a power that has been humiliated, and that tries to buy respect. The Mexican is fiercely proud in the midst of poverty. The 'Alliance for Progress' completely ignores the fact that the Mexican is clearly aware of U.S. humiliation and degradation by Castro-Communism, and is still waiting for 'Tio Sam' to roll up his sleeves. The Mexican does not care a fig for propaganda about 'radical social reforms' because he has been hearing all this for 50 years, and it goes in one ear and out the other. What would powerfully impress him would be to see the U.S. pin Castro's ears back and eject Communism from Cuba."

Honor, so Hugo Salinas Price concludes, is a word that is respected far more than peace or tolerance in Mexico. "Each year" he says, "many people kill and are killed for its sake. That is the issue in the minds of Mexicans an old-fashioned, unsophisticated issue which has not been grasped in Washington."

To be perfectly fair, some people do grasp the issue in Washington. Republican Senator Gordon Allott of Colorado would restore Uncle — or "Tio" — Sam's Dignidad by creating a Cuban government — in — exile and letting it set up its provisional capital on the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo. This would be throwing something right in Fidel Castro's face. The Mexican government, along with the Brazilian government, might officially object to the infringement of the concept of self-determination implied in backing a Cuban government-in-exile with the guns of a foreign naval base. But, as Hugo Salinas Price insists, the Latin American respects Dignidad more than he does finicking over nice shades of legality.

So get going, "Tio" Sam. You have nothing to lose but your loss of face.

5 Eastern GOP Chiefs Debate Selection of 1964 Candidate

A CONGRESSIONAL RECORD is set July 16, with Rep. Carl Vinson passing the late Sam Rayburn's service longevity. That date marks 48 years, 8 months, 13 days for the 78-year-old Georgian. When Vinson entered the House in 1914 he was 30, its youngest member. This is a late photo of Vinson in legislative action as Armed Services Committee chairman. Around him are the eight presidents under whom he has served.

California, Florida Gain Delegates to GOP Convention

WASHINGTON (AP) — California and Florida will have relatively bigger voices in the 1964 Republican convention while such states as West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Nevada, Connecticut and Louisiana will have substantially fewer votes than in 1960.

$3.2 Million Astronaut Bid Is Withdrawn

CHICAGO (AP) — Withdrawal of a $3.2 million contract bid to the nation's 16 astronauts for personal stories of their space flights has been announced by Field Enterprises Educational Corp.

Corporation President Bailey K. Howard, in a statement Monday, said the publishing firm hadn't been able to "obtain a meeting of minds" with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

"Following our most recent conversations with officials of NASA," Howard said, "we have reached the conclusion that further negotiations would be futile." The space administration, while not a party to the contract, had assumed responsibility for passing on its provisions. The proposal, announced last January, drew immediate congressional and press criticism.

Involved were 16 astronauts, including the original seven. The contract would have been for flights in the two-man Gemini capsule, slated for next year, and carry the three-man expedition to the moon.

Field Enterprises Educational Corp., which publishes the World Book Encyclopedia, had offered to establish a nonprofit company which would have paid the astronauts $3.2 million over a 10-year period or until the first moon landing.

New High Court Clerk Is Named

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Thomas L. Startzman, 34, an attorney-examiner for the Public Utilities Commission, will become clerk of the Ohio Supreme Court Aug. 1.

The court announcement said Startzman will take over the clerk's duties from John W. McMillan, who will continue as administrative assistant. McMillan assumed the additional duties as clerk in mid-1959.

Startzman is a graduate of Bowling Green State University and Ohio State University Law School. He served as an assistant attorney general in 1954-1958 before going with the utilities commission.

States with increased voting strength and their new apportionment include Ohio, 58.

The tentative apportionment of delegates to the GOP presidential nominating convention in San Francisco next July calls for a total of 1,308 — each with one vote — compared with 1,331 four years ago.

The apportionment is made up by the Republican National Committee under a formula approved by the 1960 convention.

The Democrats, who meet next year in Atlantic City, don't expect to announce their apportionment of delegates until this fall.

California and Florida Republicans drew hefty increases mostly because the increases in their populations entitled them to more congressional representation. The GOP apportionment of delegates is based partly on the number of congressional districts in a state.

California gets 86 votes next year compared with 70 in 1960. Florida will have 34, an increase of eight.

New York will have the biggest delegation with 92 votes, down four.

West Virginia was the biggest loser, dropping from 22 votes in 1960 to 14 next year. Nevada, Pennsylvania, Connecticut and Louisiana each will lose six.

If Kentucky, Mississippi or Louisiana should elect Republican governors in upcoming elections, each would get six more bonus votes.

Under the plan adopted by the 1960 convention, each state gets a minimum of two votes for each senator, two for each representative at large, and a bonus of six if the state voted Republican in the 1960 presidential election or chose a Republican governor or senator then or in a subsequent election.

Additionally, each congressional district gets two votes unless it failed to draw at least 12,000 Republican votes in the 1960 presidential election or House race in that district in 1960 or subsequently.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Influential Eastern Republicans appear to be making little progress toward picking a candidate to back in the 1964 GOP presidential nomination race.

Reports that former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has turned thumbs down on both Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller indicate a split with the old pro who helped the general become president—former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Dewey, who proved in three conventions from 1944 through 1952 that he knew how to get the nomination for himself or the man of his choice, has committed himself to Rockefeller as "the logical nominee."

The two-time presidential candidate took this action shortly after Rockefeller's marriage to the former Margaretta Murphy, and there has been no sign of any withdrawal of this commitment.

Sens. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., remain loyal to Rockefeller. Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., who used to get in a plug for the New York governor now and then, recently has confined himself to saying that Rockefeller's marriage hasn't helped him politically.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., is beating the drums for Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania as a favorite son candidate. Scranton, who once thought Rockefeller would make a good nominee, now doesn't seem so sure.

Scranton, Gov. George Romney of Michigan, Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., and Gen. Lucius D. Clay reportedly drew mention from Eisenhower as men who ought not to be overlooked in the contest for the nomination.

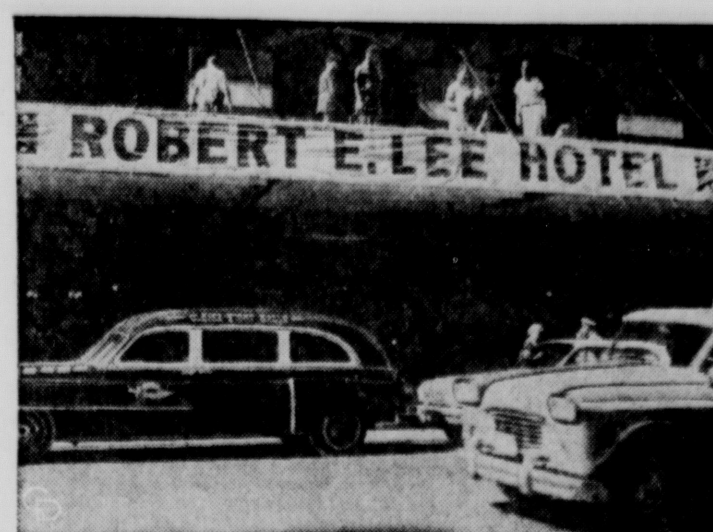

Morton, a former Republican national chairman and now head of the GOP senatorial campaign committee, is well acquainted with party members from all of the states. But he says he hasn't even "hit the approach" of the bridge he would have to cross to bid for the nomination.

Morton denied on a taped radio program that the inclusion of his name on the general's list made him "Eisenhower's boy." But he indicated he thinks Eisenhower is likely to have some influence in the choice of a nominee.

"I'd say that whether he wants to be the leader or not, that Gen. Eisenhower today commands the respect of more Republicans than any other man," Morton said.

Morton said in response to questions he thinks that if Goldwater got the nomination "we'd have a good chance of winning the presidency."

The Democrats, who meet next year in Atlantic City, don't expect to announce their apportionment of delegates until this fall.

California and Florida Republicans drew hefty increases mostly because the increases in their populations entitled them to more congressional representation. The GOP apportionment of delegates is based partly on the number of congressional districts in a state.

California gets 86 votes next year compared with 70 in 1960. Florida will have 34, an increase of eight.

New York will have the biggest delegation with 92 votes, down four.

West Virginia was the biggest loser, dropping from 22 votes in 1960 to 14 next year. Nevada, Pennsylvania, Connecticut and Louisiana each will lose six.

If Kentucky, Mississippi or Louisiana should elect Republican governors in upcoming elections, each would get six more bonus votes.

Under the plan adopted by the 1960 convention, each state gets a minimum of two votes for each senator, two for each representative at large, and a bonus of six if the state voted Republican in the 1960 presidential election or chose a Republican governor or senator then or in a subsequent election.

Additionally, each congressional district gets two votes unless it failed to draw at least 12,000 Republican votes in the 1960 presidential election or House race in that district in 1960 or subsequently.

Miss Hooks, Mr. James Wed In Double Ring Ceremony

MRS. GEORGE E. JAMES

Miss Ruth Elizabeth Hooks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hooks, Route 1, New Holland, became the bride of Mr. George Edward James, son of Mrs. Arta James, Williamsport, and Mr. George James, Blanchester, O., at 4 p. m. June 22 in the Williamsport Methodist Church.

The Rev. William Powers performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with arrangements of lilies, carnations and palms.

Mrs. Jean Metzger was soloist and Miss Diana Reynolds was organist for the traditional wedding music.

Given in marriage by her brother, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of white nylon lace over a fitted bodice, enhanced with a scalloped neckline and three quarter length sleeves. The front of the very bouffant skirt was caught to a matching cabbage rose and the back revealed tiers of nylon tulle ruffles cascading to the hemline. Her veil of illusion was caught to a crown of pearls and iridescents and she carried a white Bible topped with a cascade of lilies and white carnations. Her single strand of pearls was a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Gene Stonerock was matron of honor. She wore a dress of blue chiffon designed with a fitted bodice, scooped neckline and bouffant skirt. Matching accessories completed her ensemble and she carried a bouquet of roses and carnations.

Mr. Ronald James, brother of the bridegroom served as best man and ushers were Bruce Willis and David Schlech.

Mrs. Hooks chose for her daughter

Family Reunion Conducted at Neff Residence

Mr. and Mrs. George Neff and sons Steve and Terry, Route 2, were hosts for the Melvin family reunion held at their home.

This was the first time in many years that all members of the immediate families have been able to have a reunion.

Others present were: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Melvin and son Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Gladden Troutman and children, David, Norma Ruth and Teresa, Mrs. Herbert Melvin and Joe Melvin, all of Circleville; Lt. Col. and Mrs. Stanley Melvin and sons, Dennis of Washington D. C. and Mike from the University of Akron; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Melvin and children, Rosemary, Robert, Tom, Rita and Billy, Columbus; John Troutman, Akron; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Melvin and Beverly Lutz, Dayton.

Guests attending were Bill Meyers, Circleville; Miss Mary Lou Susong, Akron and Miss Christine Paulin, Columbus.

Miss Sabine Feted at Bridal Shower

Miss Audrey Sabine, bride elect of Mr. Ronald Hawkes, was honored with a bridal shower given by Mrs. Suzanne Copeland and Mrs. Gary Bethel in the Copeland residence, 265 Sunset Drive.

Pink and white streamers and white bells were used in the decorating. The table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake made from white bath towels.

Games were played and prizes won by Mrs. David Johnson, Mrs. Linden Gibson and Mrs. Frank Hawkes who gave their awards to the guest of honor.

Refreshments were served. The guest list also included, Mrs. Harry Sabine, Mrs. Edith Willis, Mrs. Ronald Miller, Mrs. Clark McFarland, Joan McFarland, Marguerite Sims and Karen Rase. Gifts were sent by Mrs. Emmitt Wood, Mrs. Roger Schneider and Mrs. Harold Reed.

Dorr SS Class Holds Session

Mrs. Rex Lemley, Route 3, entertained members of the Dorris Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church for their recent meeting.

Mrs. Wayne Koonce led devotions. Plans were made for a youth group to go to Seneca Lake and camp at the Baptist Campgrounds. The picnic for the entire church was also discussed.

Refreshments were served to 12 members and two guests.

If you want to add wheat germ to pie dough, replace two tablespoons of the flour in a recipe for a two-crust pie with two tablespoons of the wheat germ.

Before you begin mixing drop cookies, turn on the oven to the correct baking temperature and, if necessary, butter the cookie sheets. Rubbing the sheets with butter rather than shortening gives a good flavor.

Speaker Discusses Roses

Thirty-six members attended the meeting of the Pickaway County Garden Club in the home of Mrs. Eugene Hanson, Ridgewood Drive. There were two guests, Miss Mary Taylor, Richmond, Va., and Mrs. Darrell Hatfield.

Mrs. Kenneth Hannan, program chairman, introduced the speaker, Harold H. Allen of Chillicothe. He is an outstanding rose grower, lecturer and judge.

He has received many of the major show awards of the American Rose Society. These include the Rosedale Bowl and the J. Horace McFarland Memorial National. His roses have won, "Queen of the Show" fifteen times plus 33 sweepstakes.

The speaker showed slides taken mostly in his own garden of 450 roses. He traced seasonal rose care from early spring when roses are rough pruned and uncovered, through their blooming season until fall when bushes are given winter protection.

Mr. Allen is author of the book, "Roses—Growing for Exhibiting" published by D. Van Nostrand and knows every phase of rose growing in our own locality. He answered questions after his lecture.

Mrs. Theodore Huston, president announced that schedules for the Pickaway County Fair flower show are available. She also gave the date of the workshop as July 14. It will be held at the home of Mrs. Collis Young, E. Main Street, at 8 p. m.

Mrs. Huston reminded members of the first city-wide strolling flower show to be held October 4 and 5 at the Great Southern Shopping Center. The public is invited to participate in both artistic and specimen exhibits.

Miss Ruth Montelius was accepted for membership in the organization. The president appointed the nominating committee comprised of Mrs. E. E. Porter, Mrs. Luther Bowers and Mrs. Ray Carroll. Mrs. Virgil Cress and Mrs. James Scott are members of the auditing committee.

Mrs. Huston asked that members remember the Pumpkin Show plant sale and suggested that plants be potted for this event within the next week or two.

Announcement was made of another course of the National Council Flower Show School to be held at Green Meadows Inn, Worthington, on October 16, 17, and 18.

Mrs. G. Guy Campbell was hospitality chairman. Others assisting Mrs. Hanson were: Mrs. Sterling Croman, Mrs. William Radcliff, Mrs. Edwin Richardson, Mrs. Richard Jones and Miss Betty McCoy.

The lace covered refreshment table was lighted with floral candles. The table arrangement, in a glass container, was made of huckleberry foliage, white snapdragons, asters and roses.

Mrs. Huston presided at the punchbowl.

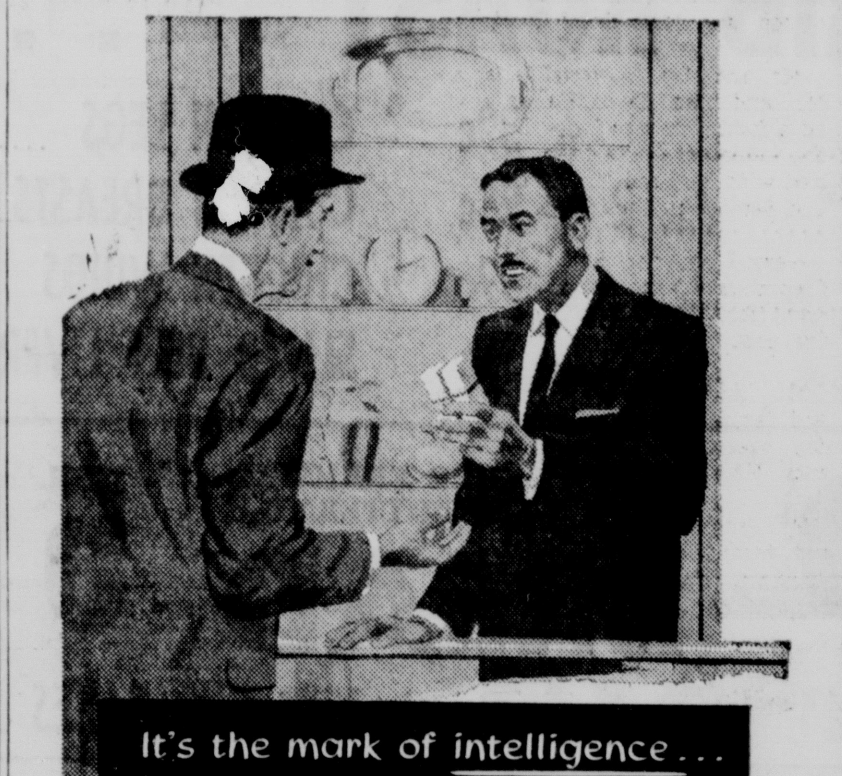

Mrs. Donald Neff surprised her husband and daughter, Regina, who were both observing birthdays, with a patio cookout Monday evening at their residence, 360 Nicholas Drive.

Guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hill and son, Kelly, Circleville; Miss Joyce Summers, Hamilton, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Neff, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Thompson, Minor Neff, Mrs. Rebecca Cutright and Ronald Neff, Chillicothe.

Michael Bohlen, Columbus, has been visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Thelma Pharr and aunt, Miss Sharon Pharr, 480 Stella Ave., for the past several days. He has spent much of the time with his uncle, John Pharr, who is diving coach and life guard at the Circleville Swim Club.

Miss Nelle Oesterle, Ashville, has returned from a social studies seminar tour of several European countries including a visit to East Berlin.

New Slipcovers Made To Resist Sloppy Children

By ELEANOR ROSS

How many times one hears mothers complain that they don't dare use a nice cover on a sofa because the children would ruin it! And indeed the children will put their muddy feet, sticky fingers and candy wrappers on the sofa at one time or another, despite admonitions.

But even the most cautious mother can relax these days for there is an increasing use of stain-repellent finishes on the woven and printed fabrics used for slipcovers.

It has never been any special chore to launder a slipcover in the washing machine. It's the time and anguish involved in trying to remove stains that makes many a mother hesitate to use really nice slipcovers in the living room.

Up until now, many homemakers have compromised between what they really wanted in the way of fabric and color and what was more likely to survive the children. So it's nice to know that what was the luxurious is now becoming the practical, thanks to new finishes that make for easier washability.

Another big drawing card in the ready-made slipcover collections is better fit—something that was sorely needed.

Stretch nylon is fast becoming everybody's darling. It is a wonderful fabric that has to be used and seen to be really appreciated.

Store personnel point out that a lot of women are in such a hurry to get new covers onto their furniture that they don't take enough time to put them on properly. A little patience is recommended for a better fit.

Stretch nylon is right on top among the quick-and-easy washables, but you will also continue to find plenty to choose from in popular blends of nylon with cotton.

According to store buyers, the patterns in these blends have proved so successful that they are too good to drop.

Dear Abby: by Abigail Van Buren

Thats' HOGGING It!

DEAR ABBY: It's true the late Governor Hogg of Texas had a daughter named IMA HOGG, but there never was a sister named URA. She was dreamed up by someone who thought it would make a good story. However, IMA did have a brother named WILL B. A. HOGG. I knew him years ago.

FROM HOUSTON
DEAR FROM: Thanks for setting the record straight. And at the risk of beating the poor Hogs to death, a reader from Wheeling wrote to say that the University of West Virginia's Number One Alumnus for seventy-five years was the beloved, late GORY HOGG. He lived to be 90. (A long time to be Gory.)

DEAR ABBY: I once knew a man in Macon, Georgia, who was known only as "L.D." No wonder. His Southern belle mamma had him christened "LOVEY DOVEY." By the time "LOVEY DOVEY" reached his full growth, he was a portly 200 pounds, plus.

KATHLEEN

DEAR ABBY: I am to be married soon and my plans are slowly shaping up. A couple of months ago, my mother-in-law-to-be asked to see the pattern and material I had selected for my wedding dress. (I am making it myself.) I showed her and she seemed delighted.

Last evening I was shocked beyond words when she showed me her dress. It was an exact duplicate of mine—only in blue. She had it made. Abby, I am a large girl and there aren't too many patterns that are slenderizing for me. That was the reason I chose that pattern. Should I go ahead and wear mine, ask her not to wear hers, or what?

HURT
DEAR HURT: Ask her please to wear something else for your wedding. If she doesn't quickly agree to it, you find another pattern for yourself. Don't let a "me too" mother-in-law spoil your wedding day.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "MOTHER OF TEENAGERS": You are lucky that yours is the home teenagers flock to. Since they are usually always "hungry", here's an idea to keep them occupied, happy and out of mischief: Suggest that they make fudge or bake a cake. It can consume hours. The only stipulation, "You must clean up the kitchen." Boys have been known to wax the kitchen floor and clean the stove just to impress the girls. And vice versa.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Mrs. Jean Metzger was soloist and Miss Diana Reynolds was organist for the traditional wedding music.

Given in marriage by her brother, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of white nylon lace over bridal taffeta fashioned with a fitted bodice, enhanced with a scalloped neckline and three quarter length sleeves. The front of the very bouffant skirt was caught to a matching cabbage rose and the back revealed tiers of nylon tulle ruffles cascading to the hemline. Her veil of illusion was caught to a crown of pearls and iridescents and she carried a white Bible topped with a cascade of filies and white carnations. Her single strand of pearls was a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Gene Stonerock was matron of honor. She wore a dress of blue chiffon designed with a fitted bodice, scooped neckline and bouffant skirt. Matching accessories completed her ensemble and she carried a bouquet of roses and carnations.

Mr. Ronald James, brother of the bridegroom served as best man and ushers were Bruce Willis and David Schleich.

Mrs. Hooks chose for her daughter's wedding a green lace sheath dress with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a pink sheath dress with pink and white accessories. Both wore carnation corsages.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church social room. The bride's table was centered with a wedding cake. Hostesses were Mrs. Eugene Schleich and Mrs. Charles Rittinger, sisters of the bride. Mrs. Ronald James and Mrs. William Coleman. Miss Barbara Remy presided at the guest book.

For a wedding trip to Michigan, the bride wore a blue two-piece crepe dress with white accessories.

The couple will reside in Elyria, O.

The new Mrs. James is a 1961 graduate of Williamsport High School and has been employed at The Farmers National Bank, Williamsport.

Mr. James is a 1958 graduate of Williamsport High School and a graduate of Ohio University. He has been a teacher in physical education at Elyria for the past year.

Out-of-town guests were from Circleville, Elyria, Akron, Dayton, Columbus, New Holland and Chillicothe.

New Officers Named by Solaqua GC

New officers were named when members of the Solaqua Garden Club met in the home of Mrs. Charles Huston. Mrs. Ben Walker, Mrs. Cecil Ward and Mrs. Henry Hansen were assisting hostesses.

Miss Judy Huston led the devotionals which consisted of a Scripture reading followed by prayer.

The following slate of officers was presented: Mrs. Everett Peters, president; Mrs. Glenn Rinehart, vice president; Mrs. Georgia Hott, secretary; Mrs. Dorothy Taes, treasurer.

Mrs. Elizabeth Downs conducted the business meeting. Birthday dues were paid by Mrs. Hansen, Mrs. Jennie Russell, Mrs. Ward, Mrs. Lucy Fausnaugh, Mrs. John Eitel and Mrs. Carrie Barch.

Mrs. Peters was selected as a delegate to the OAGC Convention at Granville August 15 and 16. Mrs. Elzie Brooks won the special project prize. A get well card was signed to send to Mrs. Edith Koch, a member.

Mrs. Ward, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Hansen, who gave a very interesting and informative talk on "Care of the Lawn."

Refreshments were served to 20 members and nine guests.

And in turn (lower), Sherpa guide Shri Nawang Gombu presents the President with a "friendship scarf."

Shed No Tear For Gobel, a Millionaire

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Members of Lakeside Golf Club who gather at the men's grill and bar ask blunt questions.

Comedian George Gobel came in the other day after a long night club tour. He was telling of some of the places he played.

A member interrupted, "George, how come you say you're doing so good when you play Florida in the summer?"

Gobel paused—as only he can pause—and replied: "I have other income."

It was a classic of understatement. Gobel is a millionaire, the Conrad Hilton of the comics.

He's made most of the money since leaving weekly television.

Lonesome George is one of the biggest owners of Ramada Inn, Inc., which operates 48 hotels in 20 states and Canada and is building 43 more.

Gobel's unusual night club tours which take him into Miami in the summer usually are tied in with his hotel sideline.

"Hollywood's a funny place," muses George, "If you're not working steady on TV or in the movies, people start feeling sorry for you."

"Even when I was on Broadway in 'Let It Ride,' it was considered unemployment by some people out here."

Welfare Revolutionary To Aid Birch Society

Mitchell said he will do "organizational work on the Eastern Seaboard," beginning next fall.

Food Management Agreement Reached

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal government completed today the formal signing of agreements with each of the 50 states, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and the District of Columbia, covering food management programs in the event of enemy attack.

The last agreement was signed by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman and Walter N. Tobriner, president of the District of Columbia Board of Commissioners.

The purpose of the agreements is to establish machinery both for orderly distribution of food and to provide that additional food supplies will be available if needed.

JULY 16 MARKS A NEW RECORD for service in the House of Representatives, with Carl Vinson of Milledgeville, Ga., passing the late Sam Rayburn's record. That date makes 48 years, 8 months, 13 days. He first entered in 1914, the House's youngest member at age 30. Woodrow Wilson was president. Seven other presidents have been in office since. Vinson, 79, is chairman of the Armed Services Committee, and is a Southern moderate.

New Philippine Claims Bill OK'd in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate gave its approval Tuesday to a compromise revision of the 73 million Philippine war claims bill designed to eliminate any fees for John A. O'Donnell, Washington lawyer-lobbyist.

The action was by voice vote. Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he is hopeful that the House will accept the proposal later.

The House had rejected two previous Senate efforts, led by Fulbright, to prevent payment of fees of up to $50,000 for O'Donnell, former member of the commission which passed on these World War II claims.

Among other things, the bill would divert 30 million of the 73 million to an educational fund to finance programs of mutual benefit to the two countries. The Philippines government had sought authority for wider use of this money.

Besides barring payment of legal fees, the compromise change in the bill originally passed last year also would put a 25,000 maximum on individual payments.

West Is Given Warning On Its Aid to India

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP)—Small Asian nations fearing India and watching the West build up the Indian army will be forced to turn to Communist China for refuge, President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan says.

Ayub Khan told a civic reception Monday that India has designs against smaller nations. He said the West failed to realize "the realities of the situation" when it agreed to strengthen India against Chinese aggression.

Indiana Schools Face 50 Pct. Cut in State Aid

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Public schools in Indiana face a cut of almost 50 per cent in state aid for this fiscal year as the results of a court decision holding the new sales tax law unconstitutional.

Gov. Matthew E. Welsh announced Monday that the 177,179,293 appropriated by the General Assembly for school support for the 1963-64 fiscal year will have to be cut by 87.5 million, leaving $89,679,293, for actual distribution, unless revenue prospects improve.

Priority List For Water Grants Set Up

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Water Pollution Control Board today announced adoption of a priority list for the next fiscal year for recommended federal grants in aid to assist in construction of municipal sewer facilities. The priorities were based on the community's financial need.

Name of the municipality, recommended grant, and total cost of the project to the communities follow (in order of the priority):

Hebron, $79,800 and $609,000; Botkins, $85,000 and $284,334; Creston, $74,400 and $525,792; Genoa, $67,490 and $558,300; Lucas County sewer district "A" (Reynolds Road project) $600,000 and $6,386,000; Trumbull County Hubbard-Liberty sewer district, $149,805 and $942,500; Medina County Chippewa Lake sewer district $157,800 and $526,000; Northfield $36,720 and $147,750; Navarre, $58,200 and $194,000.

Wooster, $36,717 and $1,803,400; Reynoldsburg, $148,800 and $496,000; Lakewood, $600,000 and $4,250,000; Wadsworth, $99,457 and $437,369; Lancaster, $225,000 and $750,000; Canton, $357,057 and $1,190,192; Brook Park, $99,919 and $333,065.

Ohio Industrial Development Loans Pegged for December

CLEVELAND (AP)—The new Ohio Financing Commission met here Tuesday and started mapping plans to grant industrial development loans in December.

The meeting was attended by Gov. James A. Rhodes, who appointed the seven members of the commission, which will serve as the financial arm of his Department of Development created by the legislature to succeed the former Department of Industrial and Economic Development.

The commissioners' task is to raise funds for loans to business and industry. Their goals will be to bring about the expansion and modernization of manufacturing plants already in Ohio and to attract new business and industry to the state without the use of tax money.

Gov. Rhodes stressed in his remarks to the commission that one of its main purposes is to promote the expansion of industry already here.

"We must take care of our manufacturers," he said. "They are our biggest taxpayers."

He said the chief purpose of the industrial development drive is "to get our unproductive segment down and to keep employment moving up."

The commission will issue revenue bonds to provide money for loans to business and industry in Ohio wanting to expand and to those wanting to locate here. Wilbur D. Fulton, retired president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland, was elected chairman of the commission, members of which will serve without pay.

Named vice chairman was Vance Brand, director of the Campaign National Bank at Urbana, and Paul E. Humes Jr., vice president of the Peoples Bank of Youngstown, was elected treasurer.

George Wilson, director of the Department of Development, will serve as secretary. He is not a commission member.

Wilson told the commissioners that private sources have pledged a "guarantee fund" of $10 million, which will enable the commission to make an initial bond issue of $40 million. This assures a market for bonds at the prime rate, he said.

Limits on the amount of bonds to be issued and size of a loan to be made will be at the discretion of the commission.

The financing plan is a step in the creation of 200,000 new jobs in Ohio, which Gov. Rhodes pledged in his campaign.

New Philippine Claims Bill OK'd in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate gave its approval Tuesday to a compromise revision of the 73 million Philippines war claims bill designed to eliminate any fees for John A. O'Donnell, Washington lawyer-lobbyist.

The action was by voice vote. Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he is hopeful that the House will accept the proposal later.

The House had rejected two previous Senate efforts, led by Fulbright, to prevent payment of fees of up to 500,000 for O'Donnell, former member of the commission which passed on these World War II claims.

Among other things, the bill would divert 30 million of the 73 million to an educational fund to finance programs of mutual benefit to the two countries. The Philippines government had sought authority for wider use of this money.

Besides barring payment of legal fees, the compromise change in the bill originally passed last year also would put a 25,000 maximum on individual payments.

West Is Given Warning On Its Aid to India

RAWALPINDI, Pakistan (AP)—Small Asian nations fearing India and watching the West build up the Indian army will be forced to turn to Communist China for refuge, President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan says.

Ayub Khan told a civic reception Monday that India has designs against smaller nations. He said the West failed to realize "the realities of the situation" when it agreed to strengthen India against Chinese aggression.

Indiana Schools Face 50 Pct. Cut in State Aid

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Public schools in Indiana face a cut of almost 50 per cent in state aid for this fiscal year as the results of a court decision holding the new sales tax law unconstitutional.

Gov. Matthew E. Welsh announced Monday that the 177,179,293 appropriated by the General Assembly for school support for the 1963-64 fiscal year will have to be cut by 87.5 million, leaving $89,679,293, for actual distribution, unless revenue prospects improve.

Ideological Split Alarms Commies

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Whatever the announced outcome of the Soviet-Chinese Communist talks in Moscow, the war between the two parties seems more intense than ever, and the battle is spreading alarm throughout the world Communist movement.

Mississippians May Ask To Expel Meredith

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—A four-man committee of the Mississippi State College Board meets today to discuss whether to ask federal court permission to expel James H. Meredith from the University of Mississippi because of his public statements.

The committee planned a closed session on the matter. There was little likelihood members would discuss the situation following their meeting on the Ole Miss campus.

Meredith, the 30-year-old Negro who pioneered desegregation at Ole Miss meanwhile took the first of his two final exams for the first summer school session.

The proposed action against Meredith was disclosed in Jackson by Gov. Ross Barnett at a news conference Tuesday.

There had been repeated rumors the board was under heavy pressure from segregationists and some Ole Miss alumni to try to prevent Meredith from becoming a graduate of the 114-year-old institution in August.

Barnett, a graduate of the Ole Miss Law School who faces criminal contempt proceedings in the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans for his efforts to block Meredith's enrollment, said board members would determine if Meredith's recent statements violated a university directive against inflammatory remarks.

Meredith declined to discuss the situation with newsmen.

Barnett read a statement by Tom Tubb, a West Point attorney who is chairman of the State College Board. "We have discussed the idea of petitioning the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals for permission to expel Meredith," it said in part.

Tubb, one of the four committee members meeting today, said Meredith had been severely reprimanded by dean of students L. L. Love for remarks in connection with the ambush slaying last month of civil rights leader Medgar Evers.

"Meredith apologized and agreed not to issue anymore statements without clearing them with Dean Love," the Tubb statement said.

"Meredith's actions since he became a student have proved our theories he was more interested in a springboard for vocal utterance than an education," Tubb said.

Since saying the blame for the death of Evers "clearly rests with governors of the Southern states and their defiant and provocative actions," Meredith has become involved in a dispute with leaders of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

He called leadership of the NAACP youth movement foolish last week at the Chicago convention of the civil rights organization. NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins attacked Meredith for the statement and also criticized him for using the term "burr head" in his speech.

Meredith said he was appalled by his reception at the meeting.

Communists face the prospect of other factional divisions having little to do directly with the Moscow-Peking split but resulting from its example.

Red China's negotiating team in Moscow is pressing hard for a meeting of Communist leaders from the nearly 90 parties around the world. This would provide a platform for airing Chinese grievances against the Russians.

The Chinese demand for such a meeting on Peking's own harsh terms seems more like psychological warfare against Premier Khrushchev than it does a proposal seriously aimed at settling differences.

Khrushchev undoubtedly takes a dim view of Peking's reported suggestion that voting in a world Communist meeting be based on population. China backed by big parties from the populous Asian nations, would snow under Khrushchev's supporters.

Acceptance of that Chinese proposal would be a sign that Khrushchev had suffered a setback serious enough to imperil his leadership.

Advices from Indonesia say that D. N. Aidit, head of the 2-million-member Indonesian Communist party, plans a journey to Peking and Moscow, possibly to propagandize for a world meeting. The trip seems to have the enthusiastic approval of Peking, which probably means Moscow will view it sourly.

Recent statements by Indonesian Communist leaders appear to place them firmly on the side of the Chinese. They approve the notion that what Communists call "just wars" should be welcomed as instruments for spreading communism throughout the world. The Chinese picture Khrushchev and his followers as cowards who fear that so-called "liberation wars" would set off a nuclear war.

This argument has lined up most of the Asian Communists—and tiny Albania in Europe—on the side of Red China. Allied with Peking are the Indonesian Communists, the North Vietnamese, most of the Japanese party, the North Koreans. Remaining with Moscow is the majority of India's party, largely because of Red China's threats to Indian borders.

The Russians are finding it necessary to drag their satellite leaders into public displays of solidarity with the Kremlin, as they did with the satellite meeting in East Berlin recently, and with the visit of Hungarian Communist chief Janos Kadar, at this particular moment, to Moscow.

The spectacle of successful defiance of the Kremlin, something new to the world movement, opens the door to development of even more splinter groups.

A case in point is the Swedish Communist party, now gripped by an internal battle over existence of the Berlin wall. Rebellious Communists blame it directly on Khrushchev. They claim the wall has made people suspicious of communism and spread the idea that no Communist party would hesitate to build a similar wall. Dissidents say this has cost them heavily in followers and in votes.

Elsewhere, Communists noting the lack of the all-powerful center that existed under Stalin, feel free to criticize Kremlin policies. Italy's Communist leaders have quarrelled with some of Khrushchev's policies lately. Romania's party, although always a Moscow satellite, disagreed with Khrushchev's attempt to subordinate the Romanian economy to Soviet needs.

Other voices of dissent will be heard as the struggle between the two Red giants develops.

There are two centers of Communist power now—one in Moscow and one in Peking. When Communists dissent from Moscow they have some place to turn for support.

Ideological Split Alarms Commies

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Whatever the announced outcome of the Soviet-Chinese Communist talks in Moscow, the war between the two parties seems more intense than ever, and the battle is spreading alarm throughout the world Communist movement.

Mississippians May Ask To Expel Meredith

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—A four-man committee of the Mississippi State College Board meets today to discuss whether to ask federal court permission to expel James H. Meredith from the University of Mississippi because of his public statements.

The committee planned a closed session on the matter. There was little likelihood members would discuss the situation following their meeting on the Ole Miss campus.

Meredith, the 30-year-old Negro who pioneered desegregation at Ole Miss meanwhile took the first of his two final exams for the first summer school session.

The proposed action against Meredith was disclosed in Jackson by Gov. Ross Barnett at a news conference Tuesday.

There had been repeated rumors the board was under heavy pressure from segregationists and some Ole Miss alumni to try to prevent Meredith from becoming a graduate of the 114-year-old institution in August.

Barnett, a graduate of the Ole Miss Law School who faces criminal contempt proceedings in the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans for his efforts to block Meredith's enrollment, said board members would determine if Meredith's recent statements violated a university directive against inflammatory remarks.

Meredith declined to discuss the situation with newsmen.

Barnett read a statement by Tom Tubb, a West Point attorney who is chairman of the State College Board. "We have discussed the idea of petitioning the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals for permission to expel Meredith," it said in part.

Tubb, one of the four committee members meeting today, said Meredith had been severely reprimanded by Dean of students L. L. Love for remarks in connection with the ambush slaying last month of civil rights leader Medgar W. Evers.

"Meredith apologized and agreed not to issue anymore statements without clearing them with Dean Love," the Tubb statement said.

"Meredith's actions since he became a student have proved our theories he was more interested in a springboard for vocal utterance than an education," Tubb said.

Since saying the blame for the death of Evers "clearly rests with governors of the Southern states and their defiant and provocative actions," Meredith has become involved in a dispute with leaders of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

He called leadership of the NAACP youth movement foolish last week at the Chicago convention of the civil rights organization. NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins attacked Meredith for the statement and also criticized him for using the term "burr head" in his speech.

Meredith said he was appalled by his reception at the meeting.

Communists face the prospect of other factional divisions having little to do directly with the Moscow-Peking split but resulting from its example.

Red China's negotiating team in Moscow is pressing hard for a meeting of Communist leaders from the nearly 90 parties around the world. This would provide a platform for airing Chinese grievances against the Russians.

The Chinese demand for such a meeting on Peking's own harsh terms seems more like psychological warfare against Premier Khrushchev than it does a proposal seriously aimed at settling differences.

Khrushchev undoubtedly takes a dim view of Peking's reported suggestion that voting in a world Communist meeting be based on population. China backed by big parties from the populous Asian nations, would snow under Khrushchev's supporters.

Acceptance of that Chinese proposal would be a sign that Khrushchev had suffered a setback serious enough to imperil his leadership.

Advices from Indonesia say that D. N. Aidit, head of the 2-million-member Indonesian Communist party, plans a journey to Peking and Moscow, possibly to propagandize for a world meeting. The trip seems to have the enthusiastic approval of Peking, which probably means Moscow will view it sourly.

Recent statements by Indonesian Communist leaders appear to place them firmly on the side of the Chinese. They approve the notion that what Communists call "just wars" should be welcomed as instruments for spreading communism throughout the world.

The Chinese picture Khrushchev and his followers as cowards who fear that so-called "liberation wars" would set off a nuclear war.

This argument has lined up most of the Asian Communists—and tiny Albania in Europe—on the side of Red China. Allied with Peking are the Indonesian Communists, the North Vietnamese, most of the Japanese party, the North Koreans. Remaining with Moscow is the majority of India's party, largely because of Red China's threats to Indian borders.

The Russians are finding it necessary to drag their satellite leaders into public displays of solidarity with the Kremlin, as they did with the satellite meeting in East Berlin recently, and with the visit of Hungarian Communist chief Janos Kadar, at this particular moment, to Moscow.

The spectacle of successful defiance of the Kremlin, something new to the world movement, opens the door to development of even more splinter groups.

A case in point is the Swedish Communist party, now gripped by an internal battle over existence of the Berlin wall. Rebellious Communists blame it directly on Khrushchev. They claim the wall has made people suspicious of communism and spread the idea that no Communist party would hesitate to build a similar wall. Dissidents say this has cost them heavily in followers and in votes.

Elsewhere, Communists noting the lack of the all-powerful center that existed under Stalin, feel free to criticize Kremlin policies.

Italy's Communist leaders have quarrelled with some of Khrushchev's policies lately. Romania's party, although always a Moscow satellite, disagreed with Khrushchev's attempt to subordinate the Romanian economy to Soviet needs.

Other voices of dissent will be heard as the struggle between the two Red giants develops.

There are two centers of Communist power now—one in Moscow and one in Peking. When Communists dissent from Moscow they have some place to turn for support.

Law Change To Yield Many Remarriages

STAR CITY, Ark. (AP)—Several hundred couples who thought they were married in Arkansas are finding out they aren't.

For at least 11 of them, the solution is simple: get married.

Four couples will tie the knot Saturday night at Benton. Seven others will have a mass wedding Sunday at Star City.

In April, the Social Security Administration announced that it would not pay benefits to wives or widows who were not legally married. It pointed out that a 1941 Arkansas law said a marriage was null and void if the bridegroom was less than 18 years old or the bride was younger than 16. Since the announcement many licenses and birth certificates have been checked by worried couples.

James R. Merryman, claims supervisor for the Little Rock Social Security Administration office, said his office had received hundreds of telephone calls and letters.

"Not just from Arkansas," he said, "but all over from people who got married in Arkansas and then moved to another state."

He said letters had come from Texas, California, Missouri and many other states.

Several couples have had second ceremonies.

Probate Judge's Assignment Hit

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—Attorneys for Mrs. Helen C. Ely have filed a motion in the 9th District Court of Appeals challenging the right of Probate Court Judge Myron T. Brenneman of Wooster to hear a case involving a $400,000 estate left by her late husband, William A. Ely. He was a member of the family that founded Elyria.

Paul Walter of Cleveland, Mrs. Ely's chief counsel, filed the motion Monday. He contended it was unconstitutional to assign a Probate Court judge to hear a case outside his own county.

Judge Brenneman was assigned to the case last fall by former Ohio Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt, when Mrs. Ely and the First National Bank of Elyria, trustees in the estate, had sought removal of each other.

Auto Shops in Havana Raided by Government

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Government authorities have raided four clandestine auto repair shops in Havana and arrested their owners, the Cuban radio reported.

The broadcast said Monday that the shop operators were speculating in parts. One man was accused of setting a price of $20 on a clutch plate worth $2.88.

Several Declaration Signers Were Destined for Tragedy

By JONATHAN EDWARDS
Central Press Association
WASHINGTON — As the nation once again marks the anniversary of its independence, Americans may well pause a moment and reflect on the sacrifices made by the brave men who, 187 years ago, signed the immortal document that pledged freedom to the Thirteen Colonies.

Fifty-six men signed the Declaration of Independence. When they did so, they literally laid their lives and their fortunes on the line. They did so in these words: "For the support of this Declaration... we mutually pledge each other our Lives, our Fortunes, and our Sacred Honor."

What happened to these men? How did they fare in the cruel six-year war that followed? Were they honored by a grateful nation? History sadly records the fate of many of them.

By attaching their names to the document, each signer became a marked man to the British. Some paid with their lives for their daring. Others lost their fortunes. A few were incarcerated in jail.

Of those who signed the Declaration, 24 were attorneys, 11 were tradesmen, nine were farmers, and the remainder were teachers, doctors and public officials. All were men of standing in their communities and most of them were well-to-do financially.

Thomas Jefferson, who drafted the Declaration, went on to become President, but not all his colleagues were so fortunate. At least eight of them had their properties ransacked and destroyed by the British or marauders.

This unfortunate fate befell George Clymer of Pennsylvania, William Ellery of Rhode Island, Button Gwinnett and Lyman Hall of Georgia, Thomas Heyward Jr., Arthur Middleton and Edward Rutledge of South Carolina and George Walton of Georgia. None asked or received compensation.

Thomas Nelson of Virginia, in charge of troops at the Battle of Yorktown, directed his artillery to shell his own home because it was being used by the British as a command post. He died bankrupt, his burial place unknown.

Thomas Stone of Maryland, Stephen Hopkins of Rhode Island, George Taylor and Robert Morris of Pennsylvania and Philip Covington of New York gave unstintingly of their wealth to the cause.

Stone died in poverty at 44; Hopkins and Taylor died soon after the war, their fortunes gone.

Morris was imprisoned between 1788 and 1801 because Congress would not repay the money he lent the government, and died penniless and Covington lived in straitened circumstances after the war.

John Hart of New Jersey died of a broken heart. As his wife lay dying, he was compelled to flee when a British patrol approached. His property was burned to the ground.

Carter Braxton of Virginia, a wealthy exporter and plantation owner, saw his fleet of ships seized or destroyed by the British. He sold his home to pay his debts and lived thereafter in poverty.

Thomas McKean of Pennsylvania contracted a fatal illness while hiding from the British. He died bankrupt. Button Gwinnett died in a political duel, Abraham Clark of New Jersey was forced into bankruptcy and Thomas Lynch of South Carolina died at sea.

The lot of the early patriots was not a happy one.

Spread over 423 square miles, the port of New York has 200 deep-water piers with berths for more than 400 ocean-going ships.

Law Change To Yield Many Remarriages

STAR CITY, Ark. (AP)—Several hundred couples who thought they were married in Arkansas are finding out they aren't.

For at least 11 of them, the solution is simple: get married.

Four couples will tie the knot Saturday night at Benton. Seven others will have a mass wedding Sunday at Star City.

In April, the Social Security Administration announced that it would not pay benefits to wives or widows who were not legally married. It pointed out that a 1941 Arkansas law said a marriage was null and void if the bridegroom was less than 18 years old or the bride was younger than 16.

Since the announcement many licenses and birth certificates have been checked by worried couples.

James R. Merryman, claims supervisor for the Little Rock Social Security Administration office, said his office had received hundreds of telephone calls and letters.

"Not just from Arkansas," he said, "but all over from people who got married in Arkansas and then moved to another state."

He said letters had come from Texas, California, Missouri and many other states.

Several couples have had second ceremonies.

Probate Judge's Assignment Hit

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — Attorneys for Mrs. Helen C. Ely have filed a motion in the 9th District Court of Appeals challenging the right of Probate Court Judge Myron T. Brennenman of Wooster to hear a case involving a $400,000 estate left by her late husband, William A. Ely. He was a member of the family that founded Elyria.

Paul Walter of Cleveland, Mrs. Ely's chief counsel, filed the motion Monday. He contended it was unconstitutional to assign a Probate Court judge to hear a case outside his own county.

Judge Brennenman was assigned to the case last fall by former Ohio Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt, when Mrs. Ely and the First National Bank of Elyria, trustees in the estate, had sought removal of each other.

Auto Shops in Havana Raided by Government

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Government authorities have raided four clandestine auto repair shops in Havana and arrested their owners, the Cuban radio reported.

The broadcast said Monday that the shop operators were speculating in parts. One man was accused of setting a price of $20 on a clutch plate worth $2.88.

Several Declaration Signers Were Destined for Tragedy

By JONATHAN EDWARDS

Central Press Association

WASHINGTON — As the nation

once again marks the anniversary of its independence, Americans may well pause a moment and reflect on the sacrifices made by the brave men who, 187 years ago, signed the immortal document that pledged freedom to the Thirteen Colonies.

Fifty-six men signed the Declaration of Independence. When they did so, they literally laid their lives and their fortunes on the line. They did so in these words: "For the support of this Declaration, we mutually pledge each other our Lives, our Fortunes, and our Sacred Honor."

What happened to these men? How did they fare in the cruel six-year war that followed? Were they honored by a grateful nation? History sadly records the fate of many of them.

By attaching their names to the document, each signer became a marked man to the British. Some paid with their lives for their daring. Others lost their fortunes. A few were incarcerated in jail.

Of those who signed the Declaration, 24 were attorneys, 11 were tradesmen, nine were farmers, and the remainder were teachers, doctors and public officials. All were men of standing in their communities and most of them were well-to-do financially.

Thomas Jefferson, who drafted the Declaration, went on to become President, but not all his colleagues were so fortunate. At least eight of them had their properties ransacked and destroyed by the British or marauders.

This unfortunate fate befell George Clymer of Pennsylvania, William Ellery of Rhode Island, Button Gwinnett and Lyman Hall of Georgia, Thomas Heyward Jr., Arthur Middleton and Edward Rutledge of South Carolina and George Walton of Georgia. None asked or received compensation.

Thomas Nelson of Virginia, in charge of troops at the Battle of Yorktown, directed his artillery to shell his own home because it was being used by the British as a command post. He died bankrupt, his burial place unknown.

Thomas Stone of Maryland, Stephen Hopkins of Rhode Island, George Taylor and Robert Morris of Pennsylvania and Philip Covington of New York gave unstintingly of their wealth to the cause.

Stone died in poverty at 44; Hopkins and Taylor died soon after the war, their fortunes gone. Morris was imprisoned between 1798 and 1801 because Congress would not repay the money he lent the government, and died penniless and Covington lived in straightened circumstances after the war.

John Hart of New Jersey died of a broken heart. As his wife lay dying, he was compelled to flee when a British patrol approached. His property was burned to the ground.

Carter Braxton of Virginia, a wealthy exporter and plantation owner, saw his fleet of ships seized or destroyed by the British. He sold his home to pay his debts and lived thereafter in poverty.

Derby News

Reverend and Mrs. Charles Hill announce the birth of a new baby daughter, Bethany Gwen, born July 2 at Riverside Methodist Hospital.

The Derby Little League played Monroe last Saturday and won with a score of 10-7. The Pony League team also played Monroe and won, 8-7.

Mrs. Betty Hill expressed thanks to the Blissful Class for the surprise shower and gifts she received.

Last Wednesday Mrs. Thelma Hollar and son, Charles Higgins Jr., arrived here by plane from Santa Monica, Calif. They are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Gary Wardell and other friends and relatives in this area.

On July 4 Mrs. Virgie Higgins had as dinner guests, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Wardell, Mrs. Thelma Hollar, and Mr. Charles Higgins, Jr. The occasion was Mrs. Wardell's 20th birthday.

Mrs. Flonnie Vance spent the weekend in Columbus with her granddaughter.

Mrs. Nelle Bauhan spent the weekend with Mrs. Georgia Duke of Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Sweet and daughter, Susi, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank

U.S., India Make Radio Agreement

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Information Agency announced today an agreement to give India a $2 million radio station in return for five years of free broadcasts of Voice of America programs.

The radio station is to be based at Calcutta. Its million-watt transmitter will beam Voice of America broadcasts to Southeast Asia in the Burmese, Thai, Lao and Malayan languages.

The basing of one of the U.S. propaganda radio facilities in India marks a considerable change in Indian policy. Before last year's Red Chinese attack on India, the neutralist New Delhi government shunned activities like this on grounds it did not want to become involved in the cold war.

Schaefer of Springfield.

Miss Grace Minshall was the weekend guest of her cousin, Clara Hornbeck of London. On her way home Sunday evening she called on Mrs. Maude Edwards of Big Plain.

Susi Sweet was the Sunday overnight guest of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schaefer of Springfield.

The Memorial window presented to Derby Church by Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Matthaes was dedicated last Sunday morning in a short but impressive service. It is in memory of their daughter, Mrs. Freda Matthaes Kissel.

How Weather Looks Today

Columbus, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Record — breaking cool July weather continued over Ohio Tuesday night.

Columbus again broke a record for the date with a low of 45. Pandora, about 10 miles southwest of Findlay, reported a chilly 42, a record low for the month of July. Cleveland also set a record for the date with 46.

A stationary high pressure system over the Great Lakes region will continue the below normal temperatures, especially at night when skies will be clear.

Winds today will be light and variable. Afternoon temperatures today will range from the upper 70s north to the low 80s south.

Continued dry weather is expected through Thursday.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECASTS

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average about four degrees below normal. Normal high 83-86, normal low 61-66. Little daily change except warming slowly on weekend. Little or no rainfall but a chance of scattered showers on weekend.

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO — Temperatures will average four to six degrees below normal. Normal high 84-88, normal low 62-66. Continued cool but with a slow warming trend. Little or no rainfall but a chance of scattered showers on weekend.

GOP Ponders Harriman Trip

Party Said 'in Dark' On Envoy's Mission

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen says the Kennedy administration has left GOP members of Congress in the dark about W. Averell Harriman's nuclear mission to Moscow.

As a result, Dirksen said in an interview, congressional Republicans have adopted a wait-and-see attitude toward nuclear test ban negotiations with the Russians.

Harriman, who met with President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk at the White House Tuesday, takes off late today on the first leg of a journey to Moscow for a high-level negotiation on a possible atmospheric test ban. He will stop in London for talks with Lord Hailsham, who will represent the British at the Moscow meeting.

Dirksen said there had been no attempt made by the White House to fill any Republicans in on the outline of any proposals Harriman may make. Neither, the Illinoisan said, was there any invitation for any Republican to accompany Harriman.

"We have been left in the dark about the administration's plans," Dirksen said. "We don't know enough about what is contemplated to form any judgment on it. We will just have to wait and see what develops."

In the past Dirksen and House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana have opposed test moratoriums because they said the Russians had broken them before and would do so again.

Dirksen indicated that the GOP leaders would be wary of any East-West nonaggression pact such as Soviet Premier Khrushchev suggested linking with any test ban agreement.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, the assistant Senate Democratic leader, told reporters that there is feeling within the administration that Khrushchev's proposal for a curb on atmospheric testing "is more than a propaganda move."

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

SQUEEE ON CASTRO: The United States has released data to support its claim that mounting moves to isolate Cuba have resulted in a steady deterioration of the Cuban economy.

Among the figures released Tuesday: Western shipping to Cuba has been reduced from 128 arrivals at Cuban ports in January 1962 to only 12 last January; Cuba's gross national product was down 25 per cent in 1962 from the 1958 level of $2.5 billion.

Except for some foods, medicines and medical supplies, normal U.S. commercial trade with the Communist country was placed under embargo by the United States on Oct. 19, 1960. The latest sanction against Cuba was taken Monday—a ban on virtually all remaining U. S. financial transactions with Cuba and a freeze on Cuban assets in the United States.

SMOKING: George V. Allen.

president of the Tobacco Institute, suggests that cigarette advertising should not be designed to appeal to young people.

And radio and television programs directed primarily to youngsters should not be sponsored by cigarette manufacturers, Allen said Tuesday in a statement.

PRESS TREATMENT: Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana has charged South Viet Nam with "a continuing effort to humiliate and to discredit American press representatives and to discourage them in the honest performance of their responsibilities to the people of the United States."

And, Mansfield said Tuesday on the Senate floor, "the support of our newsmen by our own officials on the spot leaves much to be desired."

HOLIDAY — Marilyn Rice-Davies, 18, a key witness in the vice hearing of society osteopath Dr. Stephen Ward, looks as if she enjoys her current lurid notoriety as she leaves London for a holiday on Majorca.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Wednesday, July 10th, the 191st day of 1963. There are 174 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1943, Allied troops invaded Sicily, during World War II. In a joint communique to the Italian people, President Franklin D. Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill declared: "The time has come for you to decide whether Italians shall die for Mussolini and Hitler—or for Italy and civilization."

On this date
In 1553, Lady Jane Grey was proclaimed Queen of England but reigned only nine days.

In 1780, the French soldier, Count Jean Baptiste de Rochambeau landed at Newport, R.I., with 6,000 French troops to aid the American colonials against the British.

In 1878, a yellow fever epidemic gripped New Orleans.

In 1929, U.S. paper currency of the present size was issued for the first time.

In 1951, the highest point in North America — Alaska's Mount McKinley — was first ascended on the western side.

Ten years ago . . . Russia announced the overthrow of Lavrenti Beria as chief of internal security forces in the Soviet Union.

Five years ago . . . The U.S. and Canada set up a joint committee to guide North American defenses in the event of enemy attack.

One year ago . . . The United States launched the Telstar communications satellite which made possible the first live transatlantic telecasts.

ARMY'S LAWYER—Joseph A. Califano Jr. (above), Harvard law graduate, is new general counsel of the U.S. Army. Califano, 32, Brooklyn, N.Y., succeeds Powell Pierpont, who returns to private practice.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — A few figures and a third pair of eyes give an insight into the change in the railroad-union dispute which stems directly from that change.

The railroads argue that in bygone days, when they depended mostly on steam locomotives with their coal-stoked furnaces, they needed firemen far more than now when almost all trains are hauled by oil-burning diesel engines.

In 1940 there were about 40,000 steam locomotives but only about 800 diesel engines. Now there are 29,000 diesel engine units but only 112 steam locomotives.

Therefore, the railroads say, being forced to keep about 40,000 firemen on their payrolls to ride the diesels is strictly featherbedding. They say they could save $600 million a year by dropping the 40,000 firemen. Unions say the jobs are needed for safe operations of the trains.

There's a distinction between the 40,000 firemen in diesels hauling freight cars and another 6,000 firemen riding diesels which haul passenger cars. The difference is a third pair of eyes.

On the freight diesel two men ride up front with the engineer: the brakeman and the fireman. The engineer, riding on the right, looks out for everything ahead on his side.

One of the other two men can watch on the left side. That's two pairs of eyes watching. The railroads say there is no need for a third pair—meaning a fireman's—because the brakeman can watch on the left side.

But on a diesel hauling passenger cars, only the engineer and fireman ride up front.

A 15-man commission appointed by President Eisenhower to dig into this whole railroad-union dispute—for the problem involved much more than firemen—reported to President Kennedy in 1962.

It agreed firemen on freight diesels aren't needed but said firemen on the passenger diesels should be kept. The railroads action said far more than this.

It said: The rules and agreements on jobs and working conditions set up long ago by the unions and the railroads are out of date because of modern technology which means, among other things, increased mechanization like diesels.

So the commission recommended the unions and railroads get together and through bargaining bring the whole business of rules, jobs and working conditions up to date. It hasn't happened.

The five big unions involved—firemen, train men, engineers, conductors and switchmen—balked at the commission's proposals because all of them, not just the firemen, would be affected, perhaps with the loss of other thousands of jobs.

Yet, this dilemma of increased mechanization — sometimes called automation — has cost unions jobs in other industries, and has had to be faced, perhaps most notably in the case of John L. Lewis' coal miners.

Figures tell that story, too. Just 15 years ago 450,000 men worked in the mines. Today only 125,000 do. In those 15 years the mines became heavily mechanized and, at the same time, coal production went down because less coal is being used.

Still, thanks to mechanization, the average productivity of the individual miner has gone up. It's 14 tons a day, highest in the world.

The railroad-union dispute dragged on. The Supreme Court ruled the railroads had the right to lay off the firemen. The unions still balked. Kennedy this spring set up a three-man board to find a solution. It didn't.

It proposed a gradual method for laying off the 40,000 firemen. The unions wouldn't bend. The railroads decided to start laying off Thursday. If they tried, the unions said, there would be a nationwide strike at once.

Last week Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, trying to head off the shutdown, suggested in effect that the two sides agree to accept binding arbitration. On Sunday the railroads accepted but the unions rejected.

There is no record of any monarch butterfly living long enough to show younger ones the way.

Kennedy, with the strike due Thursday, Tuesday made a final effort to stop it. He suggested the two sides let Supreme Court Justice Arthur J. Goldberg examine the problem and give a decision by October.

This, too, would be binding arbitration, which is what the unions have consistently opposed. But Kennedy can't stand by and see the country injured by a nationwide rail strike.

A further rejection by the union almost certainly would compel him to go to Congress and ask for a law forcing the unions to accept compulsory arbitration or giving the government power to seize the railroads and force a settlement.

Prospective Bridegroom Stitches Bride's Gown

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Farris Hage, prospective bridegroom, is ignoring the superstition banning a pre-wedding peek at the bride's gown.

Hage has designed and is making the gown for his bride-to-be, May Ferris of Rochester. The marriage is scheduled for Aug. 10.

Hage also is making the gowns for the six bridal attendants.

Ex-Yank Gives Views on Gas Use in Yemen

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A former American officer fighting in Yemen's civil war said today Yemeni villagers have died from gas symptoms after Egyptian attacks, but there is no proof that Egyptian forces are using actual poison gas.

"Evidence shows the gas may have come from Napalm fire bombs which failed to explode," said a report reaching here from Bruce Abourrahman Conde, a lieutenant colonel in the royalist army of Yemen's deposed Imam (king).

Conde's report said Soviet-made Ilyushin bombers of the Egyptian air force attacked royalist villages in Yemen and then dropped unidentified canisters into the rubble. Fumes from the canisters killed some villagers. Others coughed blood and vomited for weeks, he said.

Conde, a former U.S. Army and Air Force officer from California, is a Yemeni citizen. The report he sent here tallied with a London Daily Telegraph report charging the Egyptians with poison gas attacks.

Both Conde and the Telegraph said the equipment used was supplied by the Soviet bloc.

Aquamaids Set For Program At Swim Club

The Circleville Swim Club's Aquamaids will present a program at 7 p. m. July 28 at the Circleville Pool.

The water show is entitled 'Aquamaids in Toyland'. It will feature the girls in many difficult numbers requiring exacting skill.

Also included on the program will be a comedy routine starring several of the girls and an exhibition put on by the local diving squad.

This will be the second water show to be presented by the Circleville Swim team and should surpass the initial event. Members of the club and their guests are invited.

Savings Bank Extends Perfect Slate to Nine

Undefeated Savings Bank, in the Babe Ruth minors, made it nine in a string, spanking the third National Bank yesterday, 26-4, with the game called in the fifth after the Bankers had a 22-run lead.

According to Babe Ruth rules, if either team has a ten run lead at the end of five innings, the game is called. Charles Palmer hurled for the Savings Bank and allowed four hits, fanned four and walked six.

Bill Gilliam started and lost for the Third, giving up 18 hits, fanning one and walking three. He was replaced in the fourth by Helwegen who was touched for three hits and three walks. He struck out one.

Roger Clark and Cook belted triples, Roy Sark had three doubles, Massie had two, and both Ed Hissie and Corne cracked one.

GRABLE, Osborn, Bensonhaver and Reichelderfer poked losing singles.

With two down in the first, the Savings crew holds steady at 9-0 and the Third Bankers are 1-8.

Joe Nottor won the first race he rode. He was aboard Hydrangea in 1904 at the old Morris Park track in New York. The odds were 100 to 1.

Circleville Lumber, Mac's Win ML Tilts

Circleville Lumber walloped Hill Implement, 33-11, maintaining a perfect record in the Mosquito League, while Mac's gained a 21-1 edge over Pickaway Dairy at the end of five complete innings.

The Timbermen belted out 28 hits in their win, including homers by Jim Ramey, Randy Young, Joe Reser, and Rickey Blankenship.

Howard Cline and Blankenship combined to hurl a four-hit ball game. But they gave up 13 walks to aid the 11-run output for the Implementmen.

Max Wagner's triple was the longest hit for the losers. He was two-for-three and scored one run. Greg Allison scored two runs on one hit while losing pitcher Art Foll connected for the other hit for the Implement nine.

Club Shots

FOLL WAS relieved by Robert Huber on the mound. The pair walked eight and fanned six.

Blankenship and Dave Truex had perfect nights at the plate for the timbermen. Blankenship belted out a triple, besides his homerun, and three singles in five trips. Truex singled safely all six times he went to the plate.

Jim Ramey and Joe Reser were both four-for-five. Doubles were socked by Randy Young, Cline and Jeff Walisa of the winners.

Hill implement left eight runners stranded, while the Lumbermen failed to bring home four in the five-inning tilt.

In the Mac's-Pickaway Dairy tilt, winning pitcher Richie Speakman slammed three home runs in his first three trips to the plate. His fourth time up he was served a base on balls. The game went into the top of the sixth inning but the losing team did not bat in that frame.

SPEAKMAN was given ample backing by his teammates. Dave Gillis slammed a circuit clout and a double and tallied three runs for the winners while Mike Hamrick poled a triple with a man on base. John Gillian was two for two.

Hurling a one hit ball game, Speakman was robbed of a shutout when Graig Lund, who collected the only hit for the Dairyemen, scored on an error in the third inning.

Speakman struck out 13 batters and walked six. Steve McConnell, the losing pitcher, was relieved by Caudill who in turn gave way to Danny DeLong. All together they fanned five, walked 11 and gave up a total of 15 runs and 11 hits in six innings of mound duty. The final score was 12-1 at the end of the fifth.

Mac's has a record of seven wins and a loss while the Dairyemen have won one and lost seven.

LET'S MAKE YOUR HOME

look like a million

New Dean & Barry house paint with Poly-Lin looks smoother, looks glossier, looks better longer! And this means the most beautiful paint job you've ever seen, the most durable paint job your dollars can buy.

Here's why: Dean & Barry is the 100% pure polymerized linseed oil that gives Dean & Barry house paint extra smoothness, extra gloss, extra strength and toughness all the way through. No thinned-out places to prematurely weather and wear. No unsightly brush marks to spoil appearance. Dust and dirt wash off easily from the smooth, higher gloss finish. Paint jobs look better, last much longer to save important dollars for you.

No extra cost — meaning you benefit, too, because you pay nothing extra for the superior beauty and durability the new Poly-Lin blend gives. So why pay more — why take less? See us today, or have your painter-decorator come in.

2 Columbusites Lead in Ohio Test

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—Two Columbus birdie shooters led the way today as the 36-hole qualifier for the 57th Ohio Amateur Golf Championship went into its second round.

Holding a one-stroke edge over the field of nearly 250 were Pandel Savic, 38-year-old industrial glove manufacturer who quarter-backed Ohio State's 1960 Rose Bowl team, and Craig Wright, 34-year-old attorney who once captained the University of Kentucky links team.

Steve Helwegen, Circleville, shot a 46-45 91 yesterday in the Ohio Amateur at Elyria, 19 strokes off the pace setting round.

Each fired six birdies Tuesday as they fashioned their 35-37-72 scores over Elyria Country Club's 6,326-yard par 72-course.

At the end of today's round the 63 low scorers will join Tony Blom Jr. of Cincinnati, the 1959 and 1962 champion, in match playing running through Sunday. Double rounds over the 18-hole route will be played Thursday and Friday, but Saturday's semi-finals and Sunday's championship jaunts will be 36-hole events.

Chasing Savic and Wright into today's round were some of the state's top amateurs. At 73 were Jim Lague of Springfield and Dick Allison of Columbus; Bob Hoag of Columbus and Tom Stolly of Lima, two insurance men; Bob Bourne Jr. of Oberlin, who led the first round of the recent state junior meet; 52-year-old Edwin Preisler of Cleveland, who won the State Amateur in 1946, and classmate Alex Antonio Jr. of Hubbard, Ohio's high school champion the last two years.

Savic's quarterback understudy at Ohio State, Bill Petersen of Cleveland, was in a seven-way deadlock another stroke back at 74. That bracket included Carl Unis of Cleveland, Dr. Mel Woolfing of Toledo, Bob Seyler of Mansfield, Jack Hesler of Columbus, Jim Gruen of Fremont, and Don Gill of Cincinnati, who several years ago won the State Seniors championship.

From there the scores over the windy, tree-infested course soared into the 90s, and indications were a total of 156 would be necessary to get into the charmed match-play circle.

Dartmouth baseball coach Tony Lupien captained the baseball and basketball teams at Harvard.

Ankrom's 76; Bill Eddy's 77; Dean Bushlee's 78 and Dr. J. M. Hedges 89.

In the ladies golf league, the Green team is leading the standings with 47½ points. The Red team is second with 44; the Yellow third with 41, the Orange fourth with 40½; the Pink fifth with 38½; the Blue sixth with 36; the Purple seventh with 32 and the White eighth with 29.

In recent league action the Red beat the Pink, 12-3; the Orange defeated the Green, 10-6; the Yellow trounced the White 14½-1½ and the Blue downed the purple, 9-7.

Harness Racing Chiefs Split On New Classification Plan

NEW YORK (AP) — Harness racing on which 16,655,477 bet $928,740,595 in the United States last year is split these days over the new system of classifying races.

Roosevelt Raceway and Yonkers Raceway, the major tracks which handle nearly 50 per cent of the nation's yearly wagering, are on opposite sides of the controversy that flared to a higher pitch Tuesday.

Until the United States Trotting Association, the sport's governing organization, voted last year in favor of conditioned racing, the various races were arranged under a letter classification known as ABCD.

Under this system the various track secretaries classified horses as A, B, C or D. A horse then would be moved up or down according to his winning or losing performances. This is eliminated under the conditioned system whereby races are carded according to money won, ages, claiming prices, etc.

There were hot words Tuesday at the meeting of the New York State Harness Racing Commission at which Yonkers' petition to retain the letter classification for its summer meeting next month was denied.

"Condition racing is not good and will not benefit anyone," said Marty Tananbaum, president of Yonkers Raceway.

"On the contrary," said Alvin Weil, president of Roosevelt Raceway. "It will be disaster if we go back to letter class racing."

"Sure, there are kinks in the system," Weil added. "But we must look to the long-range good of harness racing as a sport. We will make less money now, but we will improve our public image and better the sport."

The Ohio State Highway Patrol will be on hand at the meet with a helicopter and divers.

Pirate Tryout Set At Jet Stadium

The Pittsburgh Pirates will hold a tryout camp Friday and Saturday at Jet Stadium in Columbus from 9 a. m. till 2 p. m. each day.

Boys interested must be between the ages of 17 and 22 inclusively. American Legion players are required to bring written permission from their team managers.

All hopefuls will need their own shoes and a glove.

The tryouts will be under the direction of James Maxwell.

Del Crandall of the Milwaukee Braves batted .297 last season for his best year since he came up to the major leagues in 1949.

American League umpire Jim Honochick of Allentown, Pa., has worked in four World Series. He leads the league's active umpires in this respect.

Legion Defeats Bingman Drugs In 4-1 Battle

Winners Move into 1st Place Second Round Tie with Elks Nine

The American Legion and Bingmans played last night in the Little League majors to decide who would share the leadership with Elks in the second round of action. The Legion won, 4-1, behind Frank Carter's two-hitter.

Carter had good control, allowing only three men to reach the base paths. He permitted a single and a double, but issued one intentional pass. He fanned 14 batters.

Paul Tassler and Marion Long opposed Carter, with Tassler taking the loss. He allowed all three hits tagged by the Legion, but lost the contest when his opponents swiped 14 bases. Long walked two men and Tassler gave free passes to three and fanned 10.

Hopple Hopkins, American Legion clean-up hitter, belted a triple and scored twice to prove himself a one-man demolition crew. Carter helped his own cause with a single and a run, and Good collected the other single.

DAN FAUSNAUGH, Drugman, third-sacker, collected both hits off Carter, and scored the run. One of his walljops was a booming double and the other a single.

The Legion nine are now 3-1 and tied for the second round lead with the Elks, while the Bingman team dropped back to a 2-2 slate.

Harness Racing Chiefs Split On New Classification Plan

NEW YORK (AP) — Harness racing on which 16,655,477 bet $928,740,595 in the United States last year is split these days over the new system of classifying races.

Roosevelt Raceway and Yonkers Raceway, the major tracks which handle nearly 50 per cent of the nation's yearly wagering, are on opposite sides of the controversy that flared to a higher pitch Tuesday.

Until the United States Trotting Association, the sport's governing organization, voted last year in favor of conditioned racing, the various races were arranged under a letter classification known as ABCD.

Under this system the various track secretaries classified horses as A, B, C or D. A horse then would be moved up or down according to his winning or losing performances. This is eliminated under the conditioned system whereby races are carded according to money won, ages, claiming prices, etc.

There were hot words Tuesday at the meeting of the New York State Harness Racing Commission at which Yonkers' petition to retain the letter classification for its summer meeting next month was denied.

"Condition racing is not good and will not benefit anyone," said Marty Tananbaum, president of Yonkers Raceway.

"On the contrary," said Alvin Weil, president of Roosevelt Raceway. "It will be disaster if we go back to letter class racing."

"Sure, there are kinks in the system," Weil added. "But we must look to the long-range good of harness racing as a sport. We will make less money now, but we will improve our public image and better the sport."

OCSSD Schedules Diving Meet

The Ohio Council of Skin and Scuba Divers is sponsoring a meet at Madison-on-the-Lake July 20-21, it has been announced by Rudy Below, secretary of the organization.

The purpose of the meet is to inform individual skin and scuba divers of medical equipment available to all divers in the state, and to brief them on the problems of an organization such as the Ohio Council.

Also slated for discussion at the two day affair is the testing program set up to certify divers qualified for skin and scuba diving.

The Ohio State Highway Patrol will be on hand at the meet with a helicopter and divers.

Pirate Tryout Set At Jet Stadium

The Pittsburgh Pirates will hold a tryout camp Friday and Saturday at Jet Stadium in Columbus from 9 a. m. till 2 p. m. each day.

Boys interested must be between the ages of 17 and 22 inclusively. American Legion players are required to bring written permission from their team managers.

All hopefuls will need their own shoes and a glove.

The tryouts will be under the direction of James Maxwell.

Del Crandall of the Milwaukee Braves batted .297 last season for his best year since he came up to the major leagues in 1949.

American League umpire Jim Honochick of Allentown, Pa., has worked in four World Series. He leads the league's active umpires in this respect.

Willie Mays Kept All-Star Game from Being Big Bust

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—It's a good thing Willie Mays was there.

Willie was not the whole show. He had help in leading the National League to a 5-3 all-star victory over the American League Tuesday.

But without the brilliant San Francisco center fielder, the 34th All-Star show would have been a bust.

First of all, only 44,160 paying customers attended, filling about half of the huge Municipal Stadium. The players and club owners were keenly disappointed. Conservative estimates had been for between 60,000 and 70,000.

The customers also were disappointed but for another reason. They had paid $6 and $8 a ticket to see the greatest National League stars, some of them for the first time. But they never got to see Sandy Koufax, the senior circuit's best pitcher; Warren Spahn, who keeps on defying age and enemy batters with reckless abandon; and Juan Marichal, San Francisco's superb young right-handed star who recently defeated Spahn in a spectacular 16-inning 1-0 duel.

What they saw was a lackluster game with routine plays, fair pitching, mediocre fielding and somewhat less than robust hitting. The biggest hit was a double by the American League's Albie Pearson, the littlest All-Star of them all.

The National League scored the tie-breaking run without the aid of a hit, the run crossing the plate when New York Yankee Joe Pepitone chose to make an unassisted out at first instead of throwing to the plate.

The National League managed only six hits, and four of those were scratchy. The American League had 11 hits but also nine strikeouts and Bobby Richardson, another Yankee, had the misfortune to hit into two double plays. The little second baseman, usually sure-handed missed a throw by third baseman Frank Malzone which led to a run.

The biggest noise came when the fans booed whenever a Yankee came to bat. Unfortunately, the Yankee contingent did little to cover itself with glory. Pepitone, the only American Leaguer to go all the way, went 0 for 4 and struck out twice. Richardson hit into four outs in two times at bat. Only Jim Bouton, the young pitcher, did well. He hurled one perfect inning.

But the crowd loved Mays. And Willie earned every bit of their adoration.

He got only one hit, a sharp, run-scoring single. But he scored twice, drove in two runs, stole two bases and of course, made the best catch, even if it didn't match some of his more spectacular catches.

That was in the eighth inning when the "Say, Hey Kid" ambled to the center field fence, 380 feet, to haul in Pepitone's fly. Willie banged his right toe against the wire fence, limped in pain for several seconds, then leisurely jogged to the dugout.

"Naw, I didn't hurt myself," he said later. "Not even a bruise. I can't afford to hurt myself. I gotta play tomorrow. I gotta play every day."

It was Willie who scored the first run, after drawing a second inning walk and stealing second against right-hander Ken McBride. It was Willie who broke a 1-1 tie with a sharp third-inning single and it was Willie who broke a 3-3 tie in the fifth with a run-scoring infield grounder.

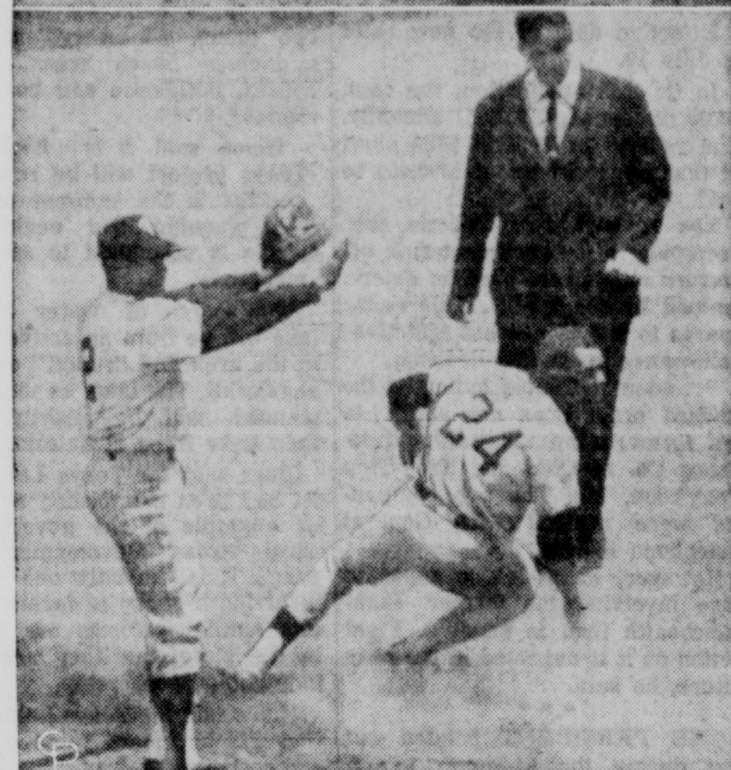

"I don't care where you are, Mays always helps you," said San Francisco manager Alvin Dark, who piloted the National Leaguers to their fifth victory in the last seven games, with one ending in a tie. The National now trails over-all, 17-16-1.

Dark employed 18 players while Houk manipulated 21 of his 25 men. Each used five pitchers. Larry Jackson, who succeeded starter Jim O'Toole, was hit the hardest, but was credited with the victory. Jim Bunning, who took over for starter McBride in the fourth, yielded one unearned run in two innings but was charged with the loss. His streak was broken after nine consecutive scoreless innings in All-Star competition.

Rookie Ray Culp of Philadelphia, southpaw Hal Woodeshick of Houston and the Dodgers' great Don Drysdale finished up for the Nationals. Bouton, lefty Juan Pizarro of Chicago and Dick Radatz, Boston's brilliant relief ace, finished up for the American League.

WILLY WILLIE — San Francisco Giants outfielder Willie Mays provides most of the fireworks in the annual All-Star game in Cleveland as the National League dumped the American, 5 to 3. In top photo, Willie steals second in the second inning despite shortstop Zoilo Versalles' desperate stab. In the following inning, Mays did it again (lower photo), so quickly that Versalles is calling off the catcher's throw.

Dr., Mrs. Smith Join Ranks Of One-Gallon Blood Donors

DR. AND MRS. R. G. SMITH

A new family combination reached the gallon mark as blood donors yesterday during the visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile. The one gallon donors are Dr. and Mrs. Robert G. Smith.

Both Dr. and Mrs. Smith have opportunity to see the need for and results of the blood recruitment program in their profession and even in their family.

Dr. Smith serves as chairman of the medical society and Red Cross Liaison Committee and chairman of the local American Red Cross Chapter.

Mrs. Smith, as well as being a homemaker and registered nurse, serves at nearly every Bloodmobile visit in the donating room. She is also responsible for the music played at each visit by loaning an FM radio to the blood program committee.

Robert Johnson, program chairman, commented that this is "indeed a couple practicing what they preach."

Royal Fury Cops Ribbons at Show

Royal Fury, owned by Betty Lee Cochran of Circleville, won three ribbons at the Mid Western Horse Show and Rodeo at the Ohio State Fairgrounds, Columbus.

Miss Jackie Frazier showed the horse, which placed third in the palomino parade class, third in the ladies western, and fourth in the palomino show horse class.

Miss Frazier also earned a fifth with Royal McDonald, a pinto gelding owned by Mrs. E. H. Frazier

Cincinnati Workhouse Population Explodes

CINCINNATI (AP)—The population at Cincinnati's 94-year-old Workhouse has gone over the 700 mark for the first time in memory, according to Supt. George Studdt. He said Tuesday a high of 714 prisoners was noted last Saturday, well above the average of 590 daily in 1962.

Fire in Field Destroys Straw

Nearly eight acres of straw was burned today in Walnut Twp. on the property of Asher Lamb.

The Ashville Fire Department doused the blaze. It apparently started when straw laying against a hot tractor manifold ignited. No damage to equipment was reported.

Deputy Sheriff George Linder investigated.

Du Pont Names Development Group Leader

Robert A. Rustin, 1963 Georgia Road, has been appointed development group leader in "Teflon" FEP production at the Circleville DuPont plant.

Rustin is a graduate of Stout State College where he earned a bachelor of science degree in industrial engineering in 1953. He later completed studies at the University of Minnesota where he was awarded a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering in 1959.

The new development group leader served as an officer in the U.S. Navy from 1953-56. He and his wife, Lois Ann, have four children, Robert A. Jr., Mark A. James D. and Sally C.

Rustin came with Du Pont in June of 1959, working in the research and development laboratory at the Yerkes plant in Buffalo, N. Y., as an engineer.

He was later promoted to research engineer, the same position he held when transferred to the Circleville plant early this year.

Teays Lake Project Slated In Madison, Walnut Vicinity

A new lake project, in Madison and Walnut Townships, one that will enclose an anticipated 130 acres of water and feature modern recreational facilities, was announced today.

The recreational program, being coordinated at present by Larry Hines, Route 2, Ashville, will be known as the Teays Lake Project. The central location is about five miles east of Route 23 near St. Paul, or about four miles northeast of Ashville.

Land from seven farms in the Walnut-Madison area will be included in the project, according to Hines. He said the move here represents a pilot project in a new federal program designed to convert farmland into forest or recreation areas.

Approximately $32,000 in assistance money has been designated by the United States Department of Agriculture toward development of the local project. Technical planning and engineering services will be provided by the Soil Conservation Service. Private funds will be used to complete the project.

ACCORDING to Hines, development will be ultra-modern and built around an international or exotic theme. Planned are facilities for picnicking, swimming, boating, water skiing, fishing, hunting, camping and other activities.

The project coordinator said operation will be on a membership basis. Present plans call for shelterhouses to be made available to groups by reservation.

Current progress indicates initial construction will start this fall. This phase calls for erection of two dams, necessary excavating to include beach areas, shelterhouses, bathhouse and boating facilities.

Hines said it is hoped the Teays project will be ready for opening in the summer of 1965. The planning and engineering phase is scheduled to start immediately.

The source of water for the lake will be from an active stream in the area and "runoff" or natural rainfall. The lake, as tentatively planned, will be slightly larger than Lake Hope at Zaleski.

Hines said the Teays Lake Project has been established as a major example of the government's Rural Areas Development Program. It is the only one in Ohio involving a group of farmers. Several similar projects are planned in the state, but they are under individual sponsorship.

Hines said the Teays Lake operation will be incorporated once the project is under way.

Baine was charged with unlawful assault on a minor by Circleville Police Chief Robert Temple

Business Briefs

Many Ohio motorists will pay lower automobile insurance premiums this year and in 1964 despite an upward countrywide trend of rates, according to the Pickaway County Insurance Agents, Assn.

The National Automobile Underwriters Association, which represents 200 companies writing collision and comprehensive insurance in Ohio, announced lower premiums for these coverages for private passenger cars in most parts of the state. Comprehensive coverage insures the owner against loss or damage to his automobile from fire, theft, windstorm, hail, glass breakage, flood and additional perils.

In a few areas private passenger car owners will pay slightly more, but most will pay less and these savings will amount to $1,444,000 a year for motorists in the state as a whole.

On a statewide basis premiums for private passenger cars are being reduced an average of 8.8 per cent for comprehensive coverage, 2 per cent for $50 deductible collision insurance and 4.7 per cent for $100 deductible collision coverage.

These changes have been approved by Superintendent of Insurance William R. Morris.

The revised rates will apply beginning July 10 on new and renewal policies.

Also, the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters, which has just completed a review of liability claims experience in Ohio, said there is no need to revise the liability rates for private passenger cars in the state this year. This favorable driving record of Ohio motorists is in contrast to the national record which has resulted in an upward trend of insurance rates. The NBCU represents 101 companies writing automobile liability insurance in Ohio.

The NBCU also announced that it was reducing liability insurance rates for commercial cars an average of 5.9 per cent statewide, which will result in premium savings of $424,000 a year. It said that unfavorable claims experience of garages buying broad liability coverage has made it necessary to raise the rates for this insurance an average of six per cent. This will result in a premium increase of $127,000. The net effect of the changes for commercial cars and garages will be a reduction of $297,000.

Initial Construction Due Soon

Teays Lake Project Slated In Madison, Walnut Vicinity

A new lake project, in Madison and Walnut Townships, one that will enclose an anticipated 130 acres of water and feature modern recreational facilities, was announced today.

The recreational program, being coordinated at present by Larry Hines, Route 2, Ashville, will be known as the Teays Lake Project. The central location is about five miles east of Route 23 near St. Paul, or about four miles northeast of Ashville.

Land from seven farms in the Walnut-Madison area will be included in the project, according to Hines. He said the move here represents a pilot project in a new federal program designed to convert farmland into forest or recreation areas.

Approximately $32,000 in assistance money has been designated by the United States Department of Agriculture toward development of the local project. Technical planning and engineering services will be provided by the Soil Conservation Service. Private funds will be used to complete the project.

According to Hines, development will be ultra-modern and built around an international or exotic theme. Planned are facilities for picnicking, swimming, boating, water skiing, fishing, hunting, camping and other activities.

The project coordinator said operation will be on a membership basis. Present plans call for shelterhouses to be made available to groups by reservation.

Current progress indicates initial construction will start this fall. This phase calls for erection of two dams, necessary excavating to include beach areas, shelterhouses, bathhouse and boating facilities.

Hines said it is hoped the Teays project will be ready for opening in the summer of 1965.

The planning and engineering phase is scheduled to start immediately.

The source of water for the lake will be from an active stream in the area and "runoff" or natural rainfall. The lake, as tentatively planned, will be slightly larger than Lake Hope at Zaleski.

Hines said the Teays Lake Project has been established as a major example of the government's Rural Areas Development Program. It is the only one in Ohio involving a group of farmers. Several similar projects are planned in the state, but they are under individual sponsorship.

Hines said the Teays Lake operation will be incorporated once the project is under way.

Man Bound to Grand Jury under $500 Bond

Henry Baine, Circleville, was bound to the Grand Jury by acting Municipal Court Judge Lemuel Weldon today under a $500 bond.

Baine was charged with unlawful assault on a minor by Circleville Police Chief Robert Temple.

Business Briefs

Many Ohio motorists will pay lower automobile insurance premiums this year and in 1964 despite an upward countrywide trend of rates, according to the Pickaway County Insurance Agents, Assn.

The National Automobile Underwriters Association, which represents 200 companies writing collision and comprehensive insurance in Ohio, announced lower premiums for these coverages for private passenger cars in most parts of the state. Comprehensive coverage insures the owner against loss or damage to his automobile from fire, theft, windstorm, hail, glass breakage, flood and additional perils.

In a few areas private passenger car owners will pay slightly more, but most will pay less and these savings will amount to $1,444,000 a year for motorists in the state as a whole.

On a statewide basis premiums for private passenger cars are being reduced an average of 8.8 per cent for comprehensive coverage, 2 per cent for $50 deductible collision insurance and 4.7 per cent for $100 deductible collision coverage.

These changes have been approved by Superintendent of Insurance William R. Morris.

The revised rates will apply beginning July 10 on new and renewal policies.

Also, the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters, which has just completed a review of liability claims experience in Ohio, said there is no need to revise the liability rates for private passenger cars in the state this year. This favorable driving record of Ohio motorists is in contrast to the national record which has resulted in an upward trend of insurance rates. The NBCU represents 101 companies writing automobile liability insurance in Ohio.

The NBCU also announced that it was reducing liability insurance rates for commercial cars an average of 5.9 per cent statewide, which will result in premium savings of $424,000 a year. It said that unfavorable claims experience of garages buying broad liability coverage has made it necessary to raise the rates for this insurance an average of six per cent. This will result in a premium increase of $127,000. The net effect of the changes for commercial cars and garages will be a reduction of $297,000.
